WELLS OFFERS U. S. AS MODEL FOR WORLD STATE

Disarmament Logical Sequence of All Nations Seeking Common Good, Historian Declares.

(The New York World.)

It would seem that the peculiar circumstances of its meeting demand that the Washington conference should begin with a foregone conclusion, the discussion of the limitation of armaments and of the restriction of warfare in certain directions, while nations are still to remain sovereign and free to make war and while there exists no final and conclusive court of decision for international disputes except warfare.

A number of people do really seem to believe that we can go on with all the various states of the earth still as sovereign and independent of each other as wild beasts in a jungle, with no common rule and no common law, and yet that we can contrive it that they will agree to make war only in a mild and mitigated fashion, after due notice and according to an approved set of regulations.

Such ideas are quite seriously entertained and they are futile and dangerous ideas. A committee of the London League of Nations union, for example, has been debating with the utmost gravity whether the use of poison gas and the sinking of neutral ships to enforce a blockade should be permitted, and whether "all modern developments" in warfare should not be abolished. "The feasibility of preventing secret preparations and the advantages of surprise were also considered." It is as if war were a game.

Sarcasm Shows Absurdity of Project.

It is a little difficult to reason respectfully against that sort of project. One is moved rather to add helpful suggestions in the same vein. As for example, that no hostilities shall be allowed to begin or continue except in the presence of a league of nations referee, who shall be marked plainly on the chest and pants with the red cross of life, and who—for the convenience of aircraft—shall carry an oxygen shade similarly adorned.

He shall be furnished with a powerful whistle or hand trumpet audible above the noise of modern artillery, and military operations shall be at once arrested when this whistle is blown. Contravention of the rules laid down by the league of nations shall be penalized according to the gravity of the offense, with penalties ranging from, let us say, an hour's free bombardment of the offender's position to the entire forces of the enemy being addressed very severely by the referee and ordered off the field.

In the event of either combatant winning the war outright by legitimate means, it might further be provided that such combatant should submit to a humiliating peace, just as if the war had been lost.

A Few Words for the Idealist and the Pacifist.

Unhappily war is not a game, but the grimmest of realities, and no power on earth exists to prevent a nation which is fighting for existence against another nation from resorting to any expedient, however unfair, cruel, and barbarous, to enforce victory or avert disaster. Success justifies every expedient in warfare, and you cannot prevent that being so.

A nation, hoping to win and afterward make friends with its enemy or solicitous for the approval of some powerful neutral, may conceivably refrain from effective but objectionable expedients, but that is a voluntary and strategic restraint.

The fact remains that war is an ultimate and illimitable thing; a war that can be controlled is a war that could have been stopped or prevented. If our race can really bar the use of poison gas it can bar the use of any kind of weapon. It is indeed easier to enforce peace altogether than any lesser limitation of war.

But it is argued that this much may be true nevertheless, that if the nations of the world will agree beforehand not to prepare for particular sorts of war, or if they will agree to reduce their military and naval equipment to a minimum, that this will operate powerfully in preventing contraventions and in a phase of popular excitement arising the rush toward war.

One Touch of Nature Makes Whole World Sin.

The only objection to this admirable proposal is that no power which has desires or rights that can only be satisfied or defended, so far as it knows, by war, will ever enter into such a disarmament agreement in good faith.

Of course, countries contemplating war and having no serious intention of disarming effectually will enter quite readily into conference on disarmament, but they will do so partly because of the excellent propaganda value of such a participation and mainly because of the chance it gives them of some restriction which will hamper a possible antagonist much more than it will hamper themselves.

For instance, Japan would probably be very pleased to reduce her military expenditure to quite small figures if the United States reduced theirs to the same amount, because the cost per head of maintaining soldiers under arms is much less in Japan than in America; and she would be still more ready to restrict naval armament to ships with a radius of action of 2,000 miles or less, because that would give her a free hand with China and the Philippines.

That sort of haggling was going on between Britain and Germany at the Hague at intervals before the great war. Neither party showed in the peaceful intentions of the other nor regarded these negotiations as anything but strategic moves. And as things were in Europe it was difficult to regard them in any other way.

No, the limitation of armaments quite as much as the mitigation

THE CONFERENCE IS BOUND TO BE A GREAT TEST OF COMPETITIVE POLITENESS

SHOOTS FATHER TO SAVE MOTHER FROM STABBING

William Shader, 50 years old, 3212 Wentworth avenue, a teamster, was shot twice by his son, Charles, 19 years old, after he returned home last night and attempted to attack his wife with a butcher knife. According to the police he was intoxicated.

His sons, Frank, 22 years old, and Charles, were in the house at the time. They warned him not to speak to his wife, as he had been placed under a peace bond some days before. Disregarding their warnings, he quarreled with her.

LINCOLN MOTORS BANKRUPT; WILL BE REORGANIZED

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—The Lincoln Motor company filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in federal court here today. Judge Arthur J. Tuttle appointed the Detroit Trust company receiver. Assets were given as $14,800,000 and liabilities totaled $8,237,280. The decision to go into the receiver's hands, it was understood, was by a directors' vote of 6 to 11. Henry M. Leland, president, declined to comment tonight, but made public a telegram sent to distributors throughout the country stating that he had consented to the business under protest and that the business would be continued under reorganization.

Jury Locked Up; "Big Tim" Waits Verdict

Jurors debating the fate of "Big Tim" Murphy and three others charged with the $385,000 Dearborn street mail robbery last April had reached no verdict at an early hour this morning. They retired to deliberate at 8:45 last night.

Immediately after instructing the jury the judge announced that if the verdict were reached it would be sealed until this morning.

Vincenzo Cosmano, Edward Geirum, and Paul Volanti, a delicatessen owner, are the other three on trial. Previously Ralph Teter and George Bradford, alias Hecker, mail clerks, entered pleas of guilty and testified for the government. Peter Guseenberg, another defendant, escaped and has not been apprehended.

Judge Explains Conspiracy.

All are charged with conspiracy to rob the mails. Judge Landis devoted most of his instructions to explaining the nature of the conspiracy charges. He said the jurors should find all the parties who entered into the robbery guilty if it were proved that two or more had conspired together to rob the mails. He pointed out it would not be necessary to show that a man was on the scene when the robbery was committed to prove conspiracy.

In the closing argument for the government in the afternoon Assistant District Attorney John E. Northrup demanded a verdict of guilty in a statement that bristled with invective.

"These men ask you for an acquittal," he said. "They tell you that Murphy and three others are innocent, but I tell you their guilt has been conclusively proved."

"Can't Disregard Testimony." In his argument Senator Barbour, appearing for Mr. Murphy, has bitterly attacked the character of the main government witnesses. He has told you that you should disregard the evidence of Teter and Bradford because they were accomplices. That you cannot do.

"These men in the second largest city in the United States pulled off a daylight robbery at the point of guns that for daring and disregard of life is enough to turn a man's blood cold. This we have proved, not alone by the testimony of the accomplices but by corroborative evidence so overwhelming, so conclusive, and so inexplicable that no other conclusion can be drawn but that all are guilty."

Hurler Poker at Drunken Husband, Kills Her Child

Eugene Messmer, 2 years old, 821 West 51st street, died last night in the county hospital of a fractured skull. According to the stockyards police, Mrs. Lillian Messmer, the boy's mother, threw a poker at her husband, who was intoxicated. It missed him and hit the boy on the head.

BUFFALO ELECTS INDICTED BREWER, BOOTLEGGER, TOO

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Frank X. Schwab, brewer under federal indictment for violation of the federal prohibition laws, was elected mayor of Buffalo today, defeating George S. Buck, incumbent, who opposed him on a platform of "civic decency." Schwab's vote was 62,532, against Buck's 59,968.

John "Dot" Moriarty, who recently pleaded guilty to complicity in a sensational bootlegging scandal and was fined $3,000 in federal court, was elected supervisor in the First ward, Buffalo's Tammany stronghold. Andrew T. Beasley, admittedly wet, was also elected assemblyman from the Fourth district. John J. O'Leary, former saloonkeeper, was elected to the board of supervisors.

WOMAN SEEKING DIVORCE FROM 2 MATES AT ONCE

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 8.—A woman today filed a suit in Chancery court seeking separation and relief from two husbands. The complainant, Alice Woodridge, alleges that she was married to John Woodridge in 1907 and lived with him for a year, when he deserted her and she received information that he had died.

Missouri $15,000,000 Bonus Bill Passed by the Senate

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 8.—The Missouri soldier bonus bill to make available $15,000,000 in bonds to cover cash payments to veterans was passed by the senate late today by a vote of 31 to 9.

Father Kills Self Because of Wayward Children

William Hohman, employee of the Standard Oil company, living at Hammond, committed suicide yesterday morning because he was ashamed of his children. For several weeks he had been worrying over escapades of two of his motherless sons, which caused the juvenile court to hold them for a series of robberies at Whiting.

MAYOR WINNER IN HOT FIGHT; LEAD 418,000

New Jersey Close, Drys Leading.

New York, Nov. 8.—[Special.]—John F. Hylan, Tammany candidate, was re-elected mayor of New York today by the largest plurality ever given a candidate for that office, or, indeed, given by New York to any candidate for office with the exception of President Harding, who last year carried the city by 438,471.

Mayor Hylan's plurality on the JOHN F. HYLAN. Incomplete re- (Copyright: U. & U.) turns available at midnight was indicated to be about 418,000, with a tendency at that time to decrease slightly over the vote of Maj. Henry H. Curran, the Coalition-Republican candidate.

Women Swell Majority.

Mr. Hylan's plurality in 1917, before the vote was swelled by franchise to women, was 153,466. The women, voting for the first time today, helped him to more than double his 1917 figures.

The result was indicated early. The Fusion leaders quickly conceded defeat. Senator Calder, over in Brooklyn, was the first to give it up. As early as 9 o'clock he threw up the sponge and said it looked like Hylan by 350,000.

"Great Victory for People."

Mayor Hylan dropped into Tammany hall shortly after 10 o'clock, where Charles F. Murphy greeted him effusively. Later the mayor went to the Commodore Hotel, where he said: "This is a great victory for the people and against the interests that have been trying to drive me out of the city hall and betray you. The newspapers have been used by these great and powerful interests to break me down."

First Loss Not Large.

It is not believed it will run high, however, as the train is not one that regularly carries large currency shipments. For this reason the postal authorities do not believe the bands were tipped off from "inside" the post-office department.

CHILDREN, RACING PARENTS IN RAIN, STRUCK BY AUTO

Hand in hand, Albert Rosenstein, 4 years old, and his sister, Minnie, 7 years old, hurried ahead of their father and mother last night to reach their home at 1435 Hastings street and get out of the cold rain.

1,000 Marines to Guard Mail from Bandits

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—United States marines to the number of 1,000 or more, if necessary, will be ordered out at once to protect the mails from robbers.

This decision was reached by the President and his cabinet today at a session given over almost entirely to discussion of the emergency produced by the continuing large postal robberies.

To Form Permanent Guard.

The marines will be employed to guard postal stations, railway mail cars, and mail trucks pending the organization of a permanent armed guard as a branch of the postal service.

"The mails may be late, but they are not going to be lost," asserted Mr. Hays. "The mails are going to be protected down to the last postal car, regardless of the cost to the service."

I. C. BANDITS' VICTIM DIES

Search for the bandits who held up Illinois Central No. 3 near Paxton, Ill., Monday night assumed an added significance last night with word from Chicago, Ill., of the death in a hospital there of Arthur Moon of Chicago, Negro porter.

Moon was shot in the abdomen and shoulder when he opened a vestibule door of the train and looked out to see why the mail car had been uncoupled. His death means that charges of murder will be placed against the bandits in addition to charges of train robbery.

On Trail in Chicago.

The search for the robbers is centered in Chicago. Important information given Chief Postal Inspector A. E. Gerner may lead to connecting several notorious Chicago police characters with the crime. Inspectors are checking up on the whereabouts of several suspects.

Although the robbers obtained only $100 in cash and a few samples of little value being shipped to South American points, the contents of practically all the other pouches containing registered mail consigned from Canadian points were destroyed by the fire touched off by the bandits. Postal authorities probably will be able to check up the complete property loss for a week.

Maybe Relief, Maybe Grief.

She didn't say whether the remark was intended as grief or relief for the loss of her husband or a sigh of thankfulness that a settlement had been made whereby she had gained at least one of his millions.

Mrs. Joyce did not contest her husband's plea in court. She already had agreed to the terms of settlement. She received $80,000 in a lump sum, she retained jewelry given her by Joyce valued at $800,000, retained house furnishings and automobiles and cash given to her and valued at $404,280, relinquished jewelry given her but not paid for valued at $275,000, and gave up all claims to her husband's $3,500,000 estate and the $250,000 home he purchased for her at Miami, Fla.

A Trifle Nervous.

She looked tired, though. There was a rather strained expression around the eyes, a sort of nervous twitching of the fingers and hands; it might mean either late hours, sleepless nights, or too many cigars. She spoke lightly of her "good friend, Mr. Merrill."

"He is my good friend," she needlessly insisted. "I think very highly of him. He is a good business man; he has good intelligence; he has been good to me."

Softly Demurs When Merillon Is Named.

Abounding in naive surprises, Peggy Joyce, whose whereabouts during the divorce action by her former husband, J. Stanley Joyce, have been much of a mystery, let it be known last night that she has been in Chicago for several days, that something approximating $1,000,000 is not so bad—and permitted herself to murmur a coy and neutral response to the charge that she is to marry Peter C. Merillon, the son of a former banker of Paris.

Peggy, Free, With Million, TO WED AGAIN

Peggy is residing—temporarily—in a comfortable suite at the Drake hotel. Last night she commented briefly on the decree of divorce against her which had been obtained yesterday by her most recent husband.

"The Pitiless Publicity." "I have something bordering on a million," she said, "but, O, the pitiless publicity! But I'm glad it's over."

Many Men, Many Affairs.

They told of visits of many men to Mrs. Joyce's apartments in New York, of trips to Venice and other European resorts with scions of wealth, of Peggy's alleged misconduct with both titled and untitled cosmopolites.

They named Henri Letellier, publisher of Le Journal de Paris, in a Venetian escapade; Barton French, member of a prominent New York family; Evans Spaulding, also of the eastern metropolis, and Prince d'Effie of Albania—described by Joyce as the "prince without a principality."

CHILDREN, RACING PARENTS IN RAIN, STRUCK BY AUTO

Hand in hand, Albert Rosenstein, 4 years old, and his sister, Minnie, 7 years old, hurried ahead of their father and mother last night to reach their home at 1435 Hastings street and get out of the cold rain.

"We'll beat you," Albert called, as they skipped out into Roosevelt road at Morgan street.

An automobile came rushing toward them. The mother screamed. The father ran to drag them from its path. It struck the children, swerved, and crashed into and smashed a fire signal box, and hurled its occupants to the pavement.

The children were taken to the county hospital. The boy probably will die. His sister is seriously injured.

Ellis Alback, owner of the car, and Max Stein, both of 1840 South Spaulding avenue, were cut and bruised. Alback was held by the police.

more gowns that were works of art instead of needed models.

Life Is Hard, She Says.

"And now—it's awfully hard for a woman to find here a girl who has had these things on her back; once they have been a part, a necessary part, of her life.

"I hear that Mr. Joyce is going to marry a girl who is a very nice girl, I hope he'll be happy. I believe he will be happy with a nice girl from some small town.

"I haven't any apologies to make, nor is there rancor in my heart. I have been called so many distressing things that it has hurt me, that's all. But there is no enmity in me. I just want to be left alone—to have a little peace."

DECREE ORDERED

Following the hearing Judge Sabath ordered Attorney Alfred S. Austri, counsel for Mr. Joyce, to prepare a decree of absolute divorce on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. He also ordered the drafting of a petition dismissing Mrs. Joyce's cross bill and the request for temporary alimony.

Joyce, looking much more youthful and buoyant than on his last appearance on the witness stand, was called first yesterday. He told of his meeting with his wife and other things.

"I met her but a few months before our marriage on Jan. 23, 1920," he testified. "I knew nothing of her past life at that time—outside of the fact that she had been the wife of Sherman Hopkins, prominent attorney of Washington."

He admitted under questioning that his assets now aggregate $2,955,186. His wife at the beginning of the case had charged that he was worth $40,000 and on that basis had made her request for $120,000 annual alimony.

Then came the introduction of the settlement agreement. There was but little argument over that. Then Joyce continued.

His Suspicions Aroused.

"When I left Europe during our honeymoon," he said, "I had no knowledge that she knew Henri Letellier or the other men mentioned in the case. It wasn't long after my return to America, though, that I learned things which caused me to inquire into her fidelity to the marriage vows."

"She knew of this, I think. She didn't treat me very well. On April 7, 1920, while we were at the Blackstone, she scratched my face so that I remained indoors for three days. The same thing occurred in Deauville and in Paris, and in Miami. It was a practice when Mrs. Joyce became angry that she would scratch me. I was very angry. And here he told of scores of little incidents of their life. There was no cross examination.

Social Secretary Talks.

Here Mrs. Sawdon took the stand. She told of her employment as a social secretary for Mrs. Joyce, of being her companion on numerous trips both in this country and in Europe. And under questioning:

"On June 11, 1920," she said, "a man stayed all night in a room with Mrs. Joyce. I went to a lawyer. She and the lawyer talked about a divorce from Joyce. She said she was going to marry French."

"She met Joyce in the Maurice hotel in Paris some time later. She wasn't very nice to him. I saw him later and his face was all scratched up. It wasn't his fault, either; he was always very gentle toward her. I often wondered why he tolerated such conduct toward him."

Meets French Again.

"Later she and French met again at a watering place. His rooms were close, almost adjoining those of my mistress. They were together almost continuously."

Peggy had a code for cablegrams and telegrams from French. Mrs. Sawdon declared, and often while with her husband received messages from him.

"Mrs. Joyce met the Duc de Dural, a Spanish nobleman, in London," she continued. "They knew each other very well, but when Mr. Joyce was present she wouldn't recognize him."

"When we were at Paris later Mrs. Joyce went to the duke's apartments. I would take her there and call for her later."

"In chambers she met numerous actors. She also met there M. Letellier, proprietor of Le Journal. We were at a dinner dance later and M. Letellier left with her."

A Trip to Venice.

Mrs. Sawdon told of a trip from Paris to Venice, where Letellier and Mrs. Joyce occupied the same compartment in the sleeping car. They also occupied together a suite in a Venice hotel, she said.

"Mrs. Joyce introduced Edgar James to me as a wealthy man whom she had known for some time," Mrs. Sawdon testified. "They danced together until late at night. One morning almost at dawn I was awakened by Mr. James saying 'Good night.' I looked in Mrs. Joyce's room and there were champagne glasses strung all over the floor."

Later, she declared, Mrs. Joyce met Prince d'Fleur de Albania, husband of the former Mrs. Frank J. Gould. The chorus girl told her secretary that she was in love with the prince and was going to marry him, Mrs. Sawdon averred.

There wasn't any cross-examination. Then Hannah Nordstrom, gray haired and calm, "Peggy's" former maid, took up the story. With Attorney Al-

"WOMAN, GOD BLESS HER—IN GROUPS," IS JOYCE'S SENTIMENT

Q—Where did M. Letellier spend the night? A—The Normandie. Q—Where did M. Letellier spend the night? A—The Normandie. Q—Where did M. Letellier spend the night? A—The Normandie.

Q—When you left who paid the bill? A—M. Letellier paid all the bills. Q—What did Mrs. Joyce say to you about M. Letellier? A—She said he was very much in love with her and very rich, but that she didn't love him.

Q—Where did you go the next week-end? A—We went to Venice. M. Letellier was with us. Q—What hotel did you stop at in Venice? A—Hotel d'Europe.

Q—Where was M. Letellier's bedroom? A—He had a room on the same floor as our room. Mrs. Joyce had her sitting room changed into a bedroom. Q—Did you ever see Mrs. Joyce and M. Letellier in there? A—No, but I used to see him come out, and he would have me look down the corridor and tell him when the way was clear.

Q—Who paid the hotel bills there? A—M. Letellier paid all the bills. Q—When you left Paris what was the arrangement on the train? A—Mrs. Joyce and M. Letellier had the same compartment.

Q—Some time later Mrs. Joyce left Paris for New York. Mrs. Joyce testified. This was on Oct. 23, 1920. There came a mention of the Prince d'Fleur de Albania. Q—Mrs. Joyce had a picture of the Prince d'Fleur, didn't she? A—Yes, on the boat going home she had it on her dressing table. She gave a description of the picture to her aunt. Mrs. Joyce told me that as soon as she could get a divorce from Joyce she was going to marry the prince.

Q—Did he ever visit her apartment? A—Yes, a few times. Q—Do you remember the first time he came? A—Yes. She (Mrs. Joyce) came up first and told me not to put on the night looks as Mr. Spaulding would soon come up. He had a key to the lower door, so he would not have to ring the bell.

Q—Did he come in this way often? A—Yes. Q—Did he ever come to breakfast with them? A—Once. One day when I got up I saw his hat and coat there. I didn't bother much until about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. There wasn't any sign of him. I thought perhaps some one was dead. I knocked at the door and he answered. I told him what time it was. Then I brought them a tray of breakfast.

Q—There was no cross examination. Weymouth Kirkland, counsel for Mrs. Joyce, was the last witness to be called. In the absence of his client he declared that she was acquainted with the contents of the settlement offered by Mr. Joyce and that she had accepted the terms.

Q—Did Mrs. Joyce not desire that the final adjudication of the property rights of the parties be postponed for several years by appeals from orders adjudicating such rights? he said.

Q—Strap on Nerves Too Great. "She didn't have the case settled at this time. Not only is this her desire, but the continual annoyances caused by the detectives employed by Mr. Joyce to watch and report her every action, have worn upon her nerves to such an extent that she does not feel warranted in further endangering her health and so jeopardizing her future career upon the stage by undergoing the nervous strain necessarily attendant upon a prolonged and strenuous litigation for the full vindication and assertion of her property rights as the wife of Mr. Joyce."

Q—Mrs. Joyce has therefore, felt constrained to assent to a settlement of the property rights of the parties now in controversy. Such a settlement, therefore, has been effectuated."

Following Mr. Kirkland's statement Judge Sabath ordered the preparation of the decree on the grounds of adultery and cruelty. He indicated that he would grant such a plea.

Q—There were no witnesses called by the defense.

"SOLDIER'S DEBT" PAID, WAR HERO JOINS JOBLESS

Leavenworth, Kas., Nov. 8.—With-out funds, his only possession, the cheapest suit of clothing that could be made at the United States army disciplinary barracks, Harry W. Haley, the ex-serviceman who paid a "soldier's debt" by serving a prison sentence for his comrade, Thomas G. Jones, began a search for a job today following his release from the barracks.

Haley, an electrician, said he must have work at once or become an object of charity.

Officials of the barracks had to give Haley a suit of civilian clothes despite an order from the war department to withhold the "usual gratuities," as he had only the prison garb to wear.

Haley's life was saved in France by Jones, who had deserted the army in the United States to go overseas with his "buddy," who had joined the Canadian army.

Jones married a girl in England just before he returned to Canada, and to clear Jones' record in the United States Haley crossed the border, represented himself as the deserter, and served five months before he made known the deception.

STEEPS HOLD KEY TO PARLEY, SAYS LONDON EDITOR

British Aims Same as U. S., Steed Declares.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[United Press.]—William Steed, editor of the London Times, writing his first impression of the conference for "the principal task of the conference" is the creation of "a basis for helpful cooperation with Japan not only in the well considered interests of Japan herself but in those of the whole civilized world."

Of the conference as a whole he writes: "In a state of mind, generally speaking, 'in a state of mind' of unhelpful pessimism." The country, he writes, "does not yet see that settlement of several serious political issues is a condition antecedent to any reduction of military or naval commitments."

Need of Cooperation. Of the need of cooperating with Japan to this end, Steed finds the following situation: "In particular, the British empire and also France are not far removed from fundamental identity of views and interests with those of the United States. There is, moreover, reason to believe that the most enlightened and competent Japanese statesmen well understand that a pursuit of aims commonly attributed to the Japanese generally would antagonize the British commonwealth of nations as in-avoidably and swiftly as the United States itself."

Tokio Holds Key. It is a copyright article furnished for the United Press, Mr. Steed says further: "In reality the key to the conference is in Japanese hands. Some foolish ideas have suggested that the British delegation will be the arbiters of the fate of the conference, as though the policy of the British empire were not marked out in advance with the utmost precision."

"The supreme British interest is peace in the Pacific and throughout the world. Anything that can conduce to peace or assure it if threatened must automatically receive British support. The powers of tariffs have been busily insinuating, rather in speech than by the written word, that England would goad over an American-Japanese conflict and see in it the opportunity of recovering economic and political advantages lost or jeopardized in the great war. Were such suggestions not foolish to the point of imbecility they would be criminal."

U. S. Foe to Jap Alliance. "In other quarters British embassies are arising from the Anglo-American alliance are busily discussed and the undoubted fact that the whole American people regards the alliance with dislike and suspicion is strongly emphasized. Unless misjudgment is made, the Japanese themselves are under no illusions on this score."

"Just as England is unlikely to yield measure designed to utilize the alliance for the purpose of securing support in withholding opposition to any policy not manifestly conducive to attainment of the major purposes of the conference, so I believe the supreme interests of the British empire will, in given circumstances, inspire an attitude on the part of the British delegation that would leave no doubt in any quarter as to the character of the British action, were peace directly at stake."

"The Japanese are much too well informed and far too intelligent not to know."

BALFOUR HOPEFUL ON ARRIVAL FOR ARMS SESSIONS. London, Nov. 8.—Belief that the Washington conference could be much to produce a better world was expressed by Arthur J. Balfour, former British prime minister, when he arrived here today as acting head of the British delegation.

"I don't believe this conference can do everything," Mr. Balfour said. "I am confident it can do much. I am confident of the steps that are being actually made to produce a better and improved world—an international world. This step will be of all history the greatest. In that hope I go to Washington."

The delegates were given a hearty welcome when they landed late today from the Empress of France. They left at noon for Montreal and will proceed to Washington tomorrow.

FRANCE IS ONE WITH U. S., BRIAND TELLS HARDING

Still Fears German Neighbor.

BY HENRY WALES.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—France's solidarity with United States in Pacific and disarmament questions as an earnest of France's good will toward America and her appreciation of American aid in winning the world war was expressed to President Harding by Premier Briand this afternoon.

The head of the French government assured the chief executive of France's sincere desire to reduce armaments, always bearing in mind France's "special position" as the immediate neighbor of a nation with one-third greater population than she has—and expressed the hope that problems in the Pacific could be solved by cooperation of the two sister republics.

May Discuss Accord Today. In his conversation with Mr. Harding, M. Briand made no reference to any accord, written or verbal, regarding the attitude of the United States in case of future unwarranted aggression by Germany against France. This subject, it is expected, will be broached in conversations tomorrow or next day between the premier and the President or the secretary of state.

The four French plenipotentiaries, M. Briand, M. Viviani, M. Sarraut, and Ambassador Jasseant, accompanied by Gen. Edmond Buat and Admiral Ferdinand de Bon, afterward called on the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy, and the state department.

At the state department the French delegates were received by Henry P. Fletcher in the absence of Mr. Hughes, who had gone to New York City to cast his vote in the majority elections.

Decorations Awe Attendees. The visit of the French delegates, in frock coats and high hats, and in resplendent uniforms ablaze with decorations and glittering with gold lace, was a surprise, and for a few moments they wandered about the halls, the floor attendants hesitating to approach such a distinguished body and ask who they wished to see.

Advance inkling of the method of procedure of the conference, which opens Saturday, became known today. President Harding will greet the visiting delegates with a short address, but will make no specific recommendations or proposals. M. Briand will probably reply in behalf of the visiting delegates.

Any "American plan" for reducing or limiting armaments that is introduced will be put forward by Mr. Hughes as chief of the American delegation.

Japan Insists on "Safety" in Naval Reduction Plan

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Japan made the first move today in the international chess game that will open at Washington next Saturday.

Admiral Baron Tominoburo Kato, delegate to the limitation of arms conference, stated that Japan stands ready to cut down her present naval program if an agreement with the other powers concerned assuring the safety of Japan can be obtained.

It is America's next move, the admiral said, and Japan waits for a definite proposal of a basis for limitation. When that comes Japan will have something more to say. The basis for any limitation program, he intimated, must lie in viewpoint and policies of the nations concerned. America's policy in the Pacific will decide the size not only of her own navy but that of Japan.

Begin with Open Diplomacy. The Japanese delegates have established themselves in the old Bismarck building in Du Pont circle. They have begun, at least, with methods of open diplomacy, and are anxious to reach an agreement and understanding with the United States.

Admiral Kato, the father of the present eight-eight-eight naval program of Japan, was moved to his talk by a statement published in a New York paper to the effect that Japan alone opposed reduction of such naval programs as have already been initiated.

"When the Washington conference was first proposed," he said, "and at other times subsequently, officials of the Japanese government, including myself, have stated that Japan would not insist upon carrying out her present eight-eight-eight program (eight battleships, eight cruisers, to be replaced every eight years, but is ready to cut it down in agreement with the powers concerned, providing the safety of Japan is assured."

"At the approaching conference doubtless many propositions will be made. If these propositions der-

'UNKNOWN' HERO RETURNS TO LAND HE DIED TO SAVE

Body of Nation's Patriot Arrives for Honors.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—America's unknown dead from France was in home waters tonight, aboard the old cruiser Olympia in the waters of Chesapeake bay. Tomorrow, to the crash of guns from saluting forts and naval posts, the treasured casket will move in honored progress up the Potomac.

As it turns into the Potomac early tomorrow the Olympia will receive the first highest naval honors for the unknown soldier it carries to his last rest. The battleship North Dakota lies a distance up the river with guns and flags waiting to pay tribute. And ahead of the cruiser will steam the destroyer Burnside as escort of honor to the dead.

Guns to Sound Salute. Fort Washington will roar the national salute of twenty-one guns. Off Mount Vernon the ship of the unknown hero will pay its homage to the tomb of the great American, Washington.

Again at Washington barracks a battery will hammer out its twenty-one gun message of highest military honor, to be repeated again at Washington navy yard as the old ship pulls in to dock at the end of its journey.

At the navy yard the navy will surrender custody of the casket to the army. The transfer will be in full ceremony. As the casket leaves the ship the guns of the Olympia will boom out the twenty-one gun salute. The ship's band will play a dirge as it is carried down the gangway with soldiers and sailors at present arms and officers at salute.

Vigil of Guard of Honor. Received by the army, the casket will be placed by the selected noncommissioned officers of army and navy and marine corps in a motor hearse and a squadron of cavalry and mounted band lead the way toward the capitol, where the catafalque awaits under the dome of the capitol, the catafalque on which Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley lay.

A guard of honor representing each branch of the army and navy will keep constant vigil about the bier until it is carried out Armistice day to its niche on the terrace of the Memorial amphitheater at Arlington cemetery across the river.

CONSTIPATED? TRY THIS FOOD

Cathartics No Longer Necessary. Just Eat Cereal Meal for Breakfast

People who through long, harmful years have become slaves to the laxative drug habit are joyfully welcoming the recent appearance of a splendid new sort of cereal. This cereal, the result of years of study and experiment by one of the leading stomach specialists of the country, is not only a delicious breakfast, but it is a positive natural remedy for constipation and all kindred ills.

And the wonderful part of it is that it has absolutely none of the disagreeable and harmful effects of the so-called laxatives, but containing as it does just the required digestive, lubricating and stimulating properties to assure complete evacuation, its regular use keeps the intestinal tract always sweet and clean. It keeps Nature in her work.

This delicious new breakfast food is being sold under the name of CEREAL MEAL—almost all the leading druggists and grocers are carrying it. They report that its great popularity is steadily increasing each day, and that many doctors are prescribing it.

Dear Sirs: In reply to several order blanks mailed me, will say that I buy my Cereal Meal from The Shepard Stores here in Boston. I have been using the meal for four or five months, since I bought a trial package, and am sure it is effecting a cure for chronic constipation from which I have been suffering for years. It is truly an ideal food, so appetizing that one does not tire of it.

Yours very truly, W. West Roxbury, Mass.

So many letters of praise and thanks have come in from grateful purchasers that the manufacturers have felt safe in making a most generous guarantee. If within one week Cereal Meal fails to give satisfactory results, return the unused portion to the dealer from whom you purchased it, and your money will be refunded without question.

Get a package of this delicious health food from your druggist today. Try it with cream and sugar tomorrow morning—just as you eat your taste and results. Cereal Meal can be obtained at the better Grocers and Druggists—if not at yours, advise him that he can purchase it from a Chicago wholesaler of food products, and, in the meantime purchase a package from some other dealer or write direct to the manufacturer, The Cereal Meal Corporation, Chambers at Main St., St. Louis, Mo.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

of warfare is impossible until war has been made impossible, and then the complete extinction of armaments follows without discussion; and war can only be made impossible when the powers of the world have done what the thirteen original states of the American union found they had to do after their independence was won, and that is set up a common law and rule over themselves.

Such a project is a monstrously difficult one, no doubt, and it flies in the face of great masses of patriotic sentiment and of natural prejudices and natural suspicion, but it is a thing that can be done. It is the only thing that can be done to avert the destruction of civilization through war and war preparation.

Disarmament and the limitation of warfare without such a merging of sovereignty look, at the first glance, easier and more modest proposals, but they suffer from the fatal defect of absolute impracticability. They are things that cannot be made working realities. A world that could effectually disarm would be a world already at sea, and disarmament would be of no importance whatever. Given stable international relations, the world would put aside its armaments as naturally as a man takes off his coat in winter on entering a warm house.

Other Symptoms of Chaos.
And as a previous article has pointed out, war, preparations for war and the threat of war are only the more striking aspect of human disunion at the present time. The smashing up of the world's currency system and the progressive paralysis of industry that follows on that is a much more immediate disaster. That is rushing upon us.

This war talk between Japan and America may end as abruptly as the snarling of two dogs overtaken by a flood. There may not be another great war after all, because both in Japan and America social disruption may come first. Upon financial and economic questions, the powers of the earth must get together very quickly now or perish; the signs get more imperative every day; and if they get together upon these common issues, then they will have little reason or excuse for not taking up the merely international issues at the same time.

Folly of Snarling Patriotism.
There is a curious exaggeration of respect for patriotism and patriotic excesses in all these projects for disarmament and the mitigation of warfare. We have to "consider patriotic susceptibilities," that is the stereotyped formula of objection to the plain necessity of overriding the present barbaric sovereignty of separate states by a world rule and a world law protecting the common interests of the common people of the world.

In practice these "patriotic susceptibilities" will often be found to resolve themselves into nothing more formidable than the conceit and self-importance of some foreign official. In general they are little more than a snarling suspiciousness of foreign people.

Most people are patriotically excitable, it is in our human nature, but that no more excuses this excessive deference to patriotism than it would excuse a complete tolerance of boasting and of filthy vices and drunken and lustful outrages because we are all more or less susceptible to thirst and desire.

And while there is all this deference for the most ramshackle and impromptu of nationalisms there is a complete disregard of the influence of and the respect due to one of the greatest and most concentrated interests of our modern world, the finance, the science, the experts, the labor, often very specialized and highly skilled, of the armament and munitions and associated trading and industries.

Wrecking of Great Investments.
So far as I can ascertain, the advocates of what I may call mere disarmament propose to scrap this mass of interests more or less completely, to put its tremendous array of factories, arsenals, dockyards, and so forth out of action, to obliterate its wide reaching net of financial relationships, to break up its carefully gathered staffs, and to pour all its labor, its trained engineers and sailors and gunners and so forth into the great flood of unemployment into which our civilization is already sinking.

And they do not seem to grasp how subtle, various, and effective the resistance of this great complex of capable human beings to any such treatment is likely to be. In my supply of league of nations literature I find only two intimations of this real obstacle to the world common weal.

One is a suggestion that there should be no private enterprise in the production of war material at all, and the other that armament concerns shall not own newspapers.

As a Socialist I am charmed by the former proposal, which would in effect nationalize among others the iron and steel and chemical industries, but as a practical man I have to confess that the organization of no existing state is yet at the level of efficiency necessary if the transfer is to be a hopeful one, and so far as the newspaper restriction goes it would surely pass the wit of man to devise rules that would prevent a great banking combination from controlling armament firms on the one hand while it financed newspapers on the other.

Yet the fact remains that this great complex of interests, round and about the armaments interest, is the most real of all the oppositions to a world federation. It supplies substance, direction, and immediate rewards to the frothy emotions of patriotism; it rules by dividing us and it realizes that its existence in its present form is conditional upon the continuance of our suspicious and divisions.

It does not positively want or seek war, but it wants a continuing expectation of war and preparation for war.

On the other hand, its ruling intelligence must be coming to understand that in the end it cannot escape sharing in the economic and social smash down to which we are all now sliding so rapidly. It is too high a type of organization to be altogether blind and obtuse.

What the Uniforms Represent.
It will not, of course, be represented officially at Washington for what it is, but in the form of pseudo-patriotic naval, military, and financial experts it will be better represented than any other life of human life. One of the most interesting things to do at the conference will be to watch its activities.

How much can we common men ask for and hope for from this great power? Self-extinction is too much—even if it were desirable. But it is reasonable to demand a deflection of its activities to meet the urgent needs of our present dangers. We do not want the extinction of this great body of business, metallurgical, chemical, engineering, and disciplined activities, but we do want its rapid diversion from all too easily attained destructive ends to creative purposes now.

A world peace scheme that does not open out an immediate prospect for the release of financial and engineering energy upon world-wide undertakings is a hopeless peace scheme. Enterprise must out.

Were this world one federated state concerned about the common welfare there would be no overwhelming difficulty in canalizing all this force now spent upon armament in the direction of improved transport and communications generally into the making of great bridges, tunnels, and the like, into the rebuilding of our cities upon better lines, into the irrigation and fertilization of the earth's deserts and so forth.

Way to World Peace.
The way to world peace lies not in fighting and destroying the armament interests but in turning them to world service.

But to do such a thing requires a united financial and economic effort; it cannot be done nationally by little groups of patriots all scheming against one another. It must be big business for world interests, unencumbered by national frontiers, or it is impossible.

All these considerations, you see, converge on the conclusion that there is no solution of the problem of war, no possibility of a world recovery, no possibility of arresting the rapid disintegration of our civilization, except a pax mundi, a federated world control, sufficiently authoritative to keep any single nation in order and sufficiently coherent to express a world idea.

We need an effective world "association of nations," to use President Harding's phrase, or we shall perish. And even in this fantastic dream of mere disarmament, of a world of little independent states, all sovereign, all competing against each other and all carrying on a mean financial and commercial warfare against each other to the common impoverishment, all standing in the way of any large modern spirited handling of modern needs, yet all remaining magically disarmed and never making actual war on each other—even if this dream were possible, it is still utterly detestable—more detestable even than our present dangers and miseries.

Renal Worse than Agency.

For if there are any things in life worse than pain, fear, and destruction they are boredom, pettiness, and inactivity, and such would be the quality of such a world. However much the diplomats at Washington may seek to ignore the fact, may fence their discussion within narrowly phrased agreements, and rule this, that, and the other vital aspect outside the scope of the conference, the fact remains that there is no way out, no way of escape for mankind from the monstrous miseries and far more monstrous dangers of the present time except an organized international cooperation, based upon a frank and bold resolve to turn men's minds from ancient jealousies and animosities to the common aims and the common future of our race.

If the Washington conference cannot rise to the level of that idea, then it were better that the Washington conference never gathered together.

Mr. Wells' third article of the great series on the armament conference will appear in The Tribune tomorrow morning.

Henrici's

In the interest of those who would like to vary their diet, by substituting for meat or fish a dish that is sufficiently substantial to serve as the principal dish of a meal, we mention the Henrici Special Pancake.

This dish is a veritable crown of glory to the menu.

One of these great big pancakes, with its curled up edges, like all genuine work of art, is not produced in a jiffy. It is made to order, requires time, and is well worth the waiting.

British Accuse French Deception.

BULLETIN.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 8.—Nikola Pachitch, head of the new ministry, resigned today. Alexander requested him to resign temporarily. The cabinet formed March 22 last. The members of the cabinet also resigned.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune. PARIS, Nov. 8.—The clash between British and French foreign policy, precipitated by Lord Curzon's memorandum to the French government protesting in strong language against the Franco-Turkish agreement with the German reparations problem and the Jugo-Slav invasion of Albania may bring the Premier's resignation. The cabinet is expected to meet tomorrow at the Washington conference.

The clash between England and France is regarded here as the serious since the inception of the war. England has charged Italy with bad faith in the conclusion of the Turkish Nationalist government, and party leaders are demanding the Premier's resignation. The reparations commission is expected to meet tomorrow at the Washington conference. The French are fearful that the Premier's resignation will force the French to leave their support of the Turkish Nationalists under pain of cancellation of reparations.

Further, the British have issued an official paper on the League of Nations reparations agreement which Germany agrees to pay 100,000,000 gold marks in building materials. The "paper" expresses the alterations of the Versailles treaty will hamper Germany's reparations.

New Balkan War Looms.

Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune. LONDON, Nov. 8.—Prime Minister Lloyd George sent a telegram to the League of Nations headquarters in Geneva for an immediate meeting of the council to deal with the Jugo-Slav invasion of Albania.

The council of ambassadors now is moving the boundaries of Albania when these are officially made within a day or two, the action will be the effect of recognition of the independence and territorial inviolability of Albania.

The British foreign office has been told that this settlement has been presented by both Greece and Serbia, which had hoped, between them, to absorb Albania.

Fear of Armed Action by Italy.

If any effort is made on the part of Italy to press its claim to the settlement, it will be the annexation of the establishment of a protectorate over Albania may even resort to force of arms to secure the accomplishment of its aims.

This is a situation which the powers to avoid, for it would open the door to a new Balkan war. Italy can claim with a show of force that it is entitled to intervene to prevent anarchy in a country, even the Adriatic, whose littoral would threaten the Italian coast in the hands of an enemy power.

Lloyd George hopes to prevent the recurring prompt action on the part of the League for the protection of weak states.

Turks Ask $10,000,000.

ANGORA, Nov. 8.—[By the Associated Press.]—After an exchange of proposals of the treaty between France and the Turkish nationalist government, the national assembly has announced the finance minister to contract in France of $10,000,000. The proceeds of the loan will be used to meet the requirements of the army.

Italy Settles with Turks.

ANGORA, Nov. 8.—The special mission headed by Gustavo Tornielli has reached a settlement with the Turkish nationalist government of Ankara arising from the incident at Adana and the searching of Italian ships by the Turks in the Black sea. A commercial agreement has not yet been reached.

It appeared certain the Republicans would control the legislature on joint ballot and that the Democrats would be unable to amend the enforcement laws, elect a Democratic state treasurer, or control the state-house commission.

One of the Republicans apparently beaten in Essex county was Mrs. Jennie C. Van Ness, around whom the fight centered because she introduced in the legislature the act for stringent enforcement of the prohibition laws in New Jersey. The Democrats demanded repeal or amendment of this act.

11 KENTUCKIANS DIE IN ELECTION DAY GUN FIGHTS

Breathitt County Seat of Most Battling.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—Known casualties in Kentucky's election tonight stood at eleven dead and seven wounded.

Ten men were killed in three affrays in Breathitt county, a man and a woman were wounded in Louisville, and one man was killed and two others seriously wounded in Estill county.

The first of the killings occurred Monday night in Breathitt county when Sylvester Howard Jr. was killed by Earl Pitts.

The second affray in that county occurred today when Cleveland Combs is said to have tried to serve as election clerk in place of a man previously appointed. Combs, his brother Leslie, Ephem and George Allen, and John Roberts and George McIntosh were killed outright and five other persons wounded, two of them, Asbury Combs and Tom Centers, dying later.

Another death was added late today when K. K. Spencer, a Democratic election clerk, was killed at Simpson precinct on Frozen creek in Breathitt county.

In Louisville Patrolman Benet Gardner shot and seriously wounded Harry Ross and another shot struck Mrs. Lillian Collins, aged 64.

In the affray in Estill county, P. F. Wolfenbarger, Republican candidate for sheriff, was seriously wounded by Lloyd Winkler. Winkler was shot and killed by Wolfenbarger's son, Jeff. Prant Richardson, a bystander, was wounded.

Moose Celebrate Birthday of Secretary of Labor

Rain and sleet of last night failed to keep several thousand members of the Loyal Order of Moose, with friends, from attending a "stag" birthday party for Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, founder of Moose Heart, at Carmel's hall, Van Buren street and Ashland boulevard. Secretary Davis, owing to press of social duties, was not present. State Senator Harold Kessinger delivered an address which followed an elaborate vaudeville program. Secretary Davis is 48 years old.

Henry P. Davidson's Son Elected to N. Y. Assembly

New York, Nov. 8.—[Special.]—F. Trubee Davidson, a son of Henry P. Davidson of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., will be member of the next state legislature. In today's election he became an assemblyman from Nassau county. He will succeed Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who retired from the assembly to become assistant secretary of the navy. Young Davidson was a lieutenant in the naval air service.

Republicans Sweep All Hammond Offices

Hammond, Ind., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Mayor Dan Brown, Republican, was re-elected mayor here today over Ed Simons, Democratic candidate, by a majority of 600. It was the hottest municipal election Hammond ever held. The Democrats imputed vice to the Brown administration and made charges of immorality against the police department which the voters repudiated when the entire Republican ticket was elected.

HUNGARY FREED OF SLAV MENACE OF INVASION

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
VIENNA, Nov. 8.—The Hapsburg dynasty, which ruled for 395 years in Hungary, having been dethroned, the little entente is drawing in its bayonets. Although all is not well in Hungary, the nation, thanks to the big powers, who curbed Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, and Rumania, has temporarily stayed off the danger of invasion.

The dethronement of the former Emperor Karl by the Hungarian parliament, was the third attempt of that body to rid the nation of the Hapsburgs. The first attempt was made in 1707 and the second in 1849, when parliament voted unanimously for dethronement, but its action was held unconstitutional because the consent of the head of the state was missing.

A great change has taken place in the legitimist party, which has stopped working actively for the recall of Karl, who is now on his way to exile on Madeira island.

Commission Government Voted by Michigan City

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—This city voted today to elect five city commissioners, Michigan City being the first city in Indiana to adopt the commission manager-form of government. The commissioners elected are Mrs. Ella K. Barnes, Dr. J. B. Rogers, Rogers M. Cox, John Finske, and Arthur H. Snyder. The commission will employ a city manager.

Mattoon Votes for "Blue Laws"; No Sunday Movies

BLUEBEARD KIDS JUDGE AT TRIAL FOR 11 MURDERS

'All Grown Women and Knew About Love.'

BY HUDSON HAWLEY.

[United News Staff Correspondent.]
VERSAILLES, Nov. 8.—After more than two years in jail, "Bluebeard" Landru, accused of killing eleven widows who fell in love with him at various times, still can exchange banter with the people who seek to have him beheaded.

"I frequently changed my occupation," Landru said, with a smile, in reply to the accusing questions of the judge today. "I felt that I should do so in order to be familiar with all phases of industry."

Landru admitted the matrimonial advertisements by which he made the acquaintance of the women who thereafter disappeared were mere snares to get in touch with newly widowed women having furniture to sell.

"All Grown Women."

"This process was quite within the law," he insisted to the judge. "It is within commercial usage. Everything is fair in publicity as long as it offends no one."

Independent Ticket Wins in East Chicago Election

In the municipal election held at East Chicago yesterday the independent ticket made a clean sweep, with the exception of two ward councilmen, Robert Smith and Richard Davis. The majority averaged over 1,000, although many citizens did not vote because of the rain and sleet. The following officers were elected: Mayor, Frank Callahan; city judge, Allen P. Tryman; clerk, William H. Miller; treasurer, J. H. Yicklinski; city councilmen, W. H. Donovan, J. J. McKenna, and W. L. Messex.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint smudges, characteristic of old paper. On the right side, there is a vertical strip of dark binding material, possibly leather or cloth, which is slightly raised from the page. The overall lighting is even, highlighting the subtle variations in the paper's tone and texture.

MADELYNN AND BURCH TO FACE JURY ON NOV. 22

Judge Refuses Pleas to Dismiss Woman.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. Madelyn Connor Obenchain, accused of the murder of her husband, will be tried Nov. 22, two days before Thanksgiving. Judge Sidney N. Reeve decided today, Judge Reeve refused to dismiss the indictment against Mrs. Obenchain.

The judge's ruling satisfied Burch and his counsel but disappointed Madelyn and her. Through Charles Erb, who had demanded immediate trial, Burch, through Attorney Schenck, had asked for a delay that he might obtain proof of his insanity. District Attorney Woolwine pointed out to the court that his chief deputy, Asa Keyes, was the only deputy who could accompany Schenck to Chicago to take depositions and that he was the only deputy who could try the case. Burch and Mrs. Obenchain.

It would be impossible, he said, to try the case in different courtrooms at the same time. There are seventy-five exhibits to be offered in evidence in each case and thirty-five witnesses to testify.

GET EVIDENCE HERE

Attorney William Powell, representing District Attorney Woolwine's office, told the court yesterday and today that he would take several affidavits from friends and acquaintances of Arthur C. Burch to the effect that he is sane.

Among those interviewed by Attorney Powell was Mrs. Ida F. Shotwell, 1871 Orrington avenue, at whose "boarding house Madelyn Obenchain lived while in college. She declared that she had often seen Burch "hanging around" jealously while Obenchain was calling. She believes Burch sane.

Others were Thomas Alth, who "never saw any odd conduct" in Burch, and J. W. Duval, a tea room proprietor. Edmund F. Hahn, son of Evanston's city clerk, who was graduated from Evanston academy with Burch, considers him sane.

Charles N. Stevens, president of the National bank of Evanston, approached by Attorney Powell, refused to give an affidavit. It is believed that he will testify in favor of the defense. It was also learned that Robert H. Gault, professor of criminal psychology at Northwestern university, has refused to have anything to do with the case whatever.

The Rev. William A. Burch, father of the accused man, continued his efforts to collect affidavits from friends owing his son to be insane. He will turn to Los Angeles when he has gathered enough testimony.

GERMANY SEEKS NEW LIFE IN DEAL WITH RUSSIANS

By GEORGE SELDES.

(Special Telegrams Foreign News Service.)
BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Although facing financial collapse, Germany has just begun most important negotiations with Russia, where the leaders say Germany's future lies. These negotiations aim at a workable commercial treaty as well as the restoration of diplomatic relations and the bringing about of a complete change in the German policy toward Russia. M. Karakhan, the Russian ambassador to Poland, is representing Russia. In diplomatic circles there is considerable discussion over M. Karakhan's mission. Among other things the negotiations are called a counter move by Russia and Germany because they were left out of the Washington conference.

It is expected that all the difficulties regarding Germany's exploitation of Russia will be erased and the Germans will be granted concessions worth millions.

German Drive Marks Down.
The most powerful figure in Germany's financial world, the man who has billions of gold mark checks which the allies accept as Germany's operations—Paul Mankiewicz, managing director of the Deutsche

BROKER WHO SLASHED HIS WIFE'S THROAT SET FREE BY COURT

Refusal of his wife to prosecute him yesterday resulted in the charge of assault with intent to kill against Alexander Stewart, broker and member of the Art Institute, being not pressed in the Clark street police court.

Ross was arrested Oct. 16 after he had slashed his wife's throat while they were at the Congress hotel. He had been drinking heavily. Mrs. Ross was taken to St. Luke's hospital, where she recovered.

MRS. ALEXANDER S. ROSS

bank—today emphatically denied foreign reports that Germany subtly was aiding the collapse of its own money. "I hurl the charge that Germany is financially, politically, or industrially interested in aiding the fall of the mark back into the teeth of those who uttered the falsehood," said Director Mankiewicz in an interview granted THE TRIBUNE.

"The fall of the mark is the most alarming symptom of the present day in Germany. It arouses fear in all responsible circles. Mr. Keynes, the noted economist, said that a German debacle would occur next spring, but I cannot see how the January payment of the reparations will be possible.

Bankruptcy Already at Hand.

"An official bankruptcy declaration would be a mere formality since the insane demands of the entente are not in accordance with Germany's income and are forcing the printing of paper marks, thus automatically depreciating their own value. I cannot see how foreign countries can grant credits to Germany in its present condition, but at best foreign credits would only serve as a weak wall for staying off the inevitable.

"The German people will not passively consent to be forced to the level of Austria and Russia. There is small consolation in the fact that the entente and America already are suffering on account of the impossibility of continuing commerce due to the rate of exchange. The world needs a new reparations agreement as quickly as possible."

Industrial Stocks Fall.

The most important aftermath to the collapse of German money will be the shortage of raw materials, making further reparations payments still more impossible, according to well-informed bankers. Although Germany produces certain raw materials in enormous quantities, she is forced to import much.

The first indication of the shortage of raw material is the fall of industrial stocks. Up to this week these stocks rose almost with the same percentage with which marks fell. When the dollar went from 100 to 200 marks many stocks doubled their prices, but no such increases were noticeable on the bourse today, when the dollar brought more than 300 marks.

At the same time the panic conditions increased. Reports from Holland told of many millions of marks being thrown on the market by Dutch banks and speculators and in Berlin itself the holders of industrial stocks began to realize on them.

Germany Is Despondent.

Despondency and pessimism, which has accompanied the notable fall in the value of marks, has now settled thick over Germany. Every one is asking what the end will be. Every one is protesting that Germany is a rich industrial nation and is not like Austria and Poland, where the money is almost worthless. Every one is blaming every one else for the "disastrous fall of the mark."

In the meanwhile the rush to the stores has increased.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS LAUNCH NEW JOURNAL

A new high school students' publication was born last night at a banquet attended by thirty embryo journalists at the Elks' club. It was christened the Chicago High School Sun, and arrangements were made to present it to the high school public this month.

According to Maurice Frank of 7310 Oglesby avenue, business manager and publisher, the paper will be edited through the cooperation of individual editors in high schools of county and city. Issued weekly, the paper will consist of six pages, seven columns each, and will be devoted solely to high school news. The editors set its circulation figure at 30,000.

CAN WE DRINK CHAMPAGNE AND PAY, TOO?—BERLIN

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—[By the Associated Press.]—The German government announced today during debate on taxes in the reichstag that it was planning stringent measures to curb speculation and traffic in foreign exchange. Minister of Economics Schmidt also disclosed that one billion marks' worth of French wines, champagnes, and other liquors were entering Germany through the import control station at Ems, and that 600,000,000 marks' worth of French perfumes, cosmetics, silks, and other "superfluous articles of luxury" were likewise pouring into the country.

"Were our situation not so tragic," Herr Schmidt said, "this conception on the part of the entente of our internal needs would have a humorous aspect. But the situation is simply that either we are to consume these French wines and snap our fingers at the reparations obligations or that we are to resolve to fulfill our obligations in which case we shall be compelled to decline the French libations."

State Free Employment

Agent Relieved of Job

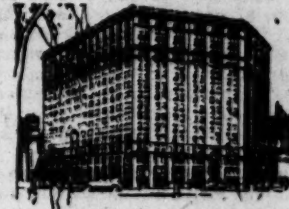

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 8.—Luther O. German, superintendent of the State Free Employment office in Springfield, is today without a job. He was relieved yesterday on charges of neglect of duty. Mr. German was appointed by Gov. Lowden. His temporary successor, in charge of the office today, is James Lindsay, assistant inspector of the state department of labor.

COPTOO ZEALOUS IN BUSINESS JOB; GETS SUSPENDED

Robert L. Gastineau, 4513 Oakwood avenue, was suspended from the police force yesterday. Two years ago he was given a year's furlough and became business manager of the Kenwood Property Owners' association at a salary of $200 a month. He owns property valued at $30,000. Among his duties is said to have been that of keeping Negroes from moving into the district.

According to affidavits filed with Chief Fitzmorris, he became so zealous in his work that he threatened and beat members of the association and others who would not join it. Among his accusers are Orville La Bounty, 4700 Ingleside avenue; William H. De Geer, 1119 East 43d street, president and secretary of the association, and John E. Wotell, a druggist, 1028 East 43d street. De Geer charges he was beaten by Gastineau.

ULSTER STATUS GRAVE, PREMIER CRAIG DECLARES

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, issued the following statement tonight:

"The prime minister of northern Ireland spent another strenuous day in consultation with various influential leaders and he is preparing for a meeting of the Ulster cabinet. Although he knows the line he has adopted will meet with the unanimous approval of the loyalists of Ulster the situation is so grave that he feels the responsibility should be shared by the whole cabinet."

This statement was looked upon here tonight in two ways. Either it means Ulster will agree to the Lloyd-George Sinn Féin demands for a united Ireland, "for the good of the British empire," or Ulster is ready to kick over the traces and thus perhaps ruin the chances for Irish peace.

The Ulster cabinet ministers will cross from Belfast tonight, arriving in London tomorrow morning. They will immediately confer at the Savoy hotel with Craig.

They will have a full day to consider and to discuss the matter before the conference with Prime Minister Lloyd George, to which they have been summoned, on Thursday evening.

If the stand of the Belfast papers of fers any indication, the ministers will refuse to budge from their present position. Such a course will mean the wrecking of the peace conference.

The Northern Whig, the leading Ulster paper, said today that it would rather see Ulster in flames than to accept allegiance to the Dublin parliament.

Craig spent today conferring with the English Unionist leaders, and it is believed he received little comfort from that quarter. Lord Edward Carson, his predecessor in the Ulster leadership, is said to have advised him to settle on the best possible terms, while Lord Birkenhead, who was Lord Carson's galloper in the threatened Ulster rebellion of 1914, told him plainly that he would support Mr. Lloyd George through thick and thin.

The Ulster premier is said to have received similar information from Austen Chamberlain, and even Mr. Bonar Law is said to have advised him that he could expect no support other than the forty-three "die hards" who voted to censure the government last week.

Harding Picks J. W. Riddle for Argentine Embassy

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—John Wallace Riddle, former American ambassador to Russia in 1906-09, has been selected by President Harding to be ambassador to Argentina, it was learned today. Mr. Riddle, a native of Philadelphia, entered the diplomatic service in 1893 as secretary of the American embassy in Constantinople. In 1900 he went to Russia as secretary of embassy. From 1903 until 1905 he was diplomatic agent and consul general in Egypt and then was made minister to Roumania and Serbia, from which post he was promoted to be ambassador to Russia.

ABBOTT URGED TO PLACE CHINA IN BANKRUPTCY

BY DON PATTERSON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)

PEKING, Nov. 8.—The American state department is taking a firm hand in the negotiations between John J. Abbott, representing the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago, and the Chinese government for the refunding of a loan made by the American company to the Chinese. The United States legation is using its good offices to encourage an immediate settlement.

A note sent from Washington has reinforced Mr. Abbott's warning that any failure to make immediate and satisfactory arrangements to pay back the loan will seriously threaten the credit of the Chinese government in the United States. The Yi Shih Pao, the leading Chinese daily of Peking, declares that before Kao Ling Wei, the new minister of finance, was appointed he promised to sign a new wine and tobacco loan, guaranteeing payment to the Chicago bank, and also to float new domestic loans on a basis of increased customs revenue. The paper says that he now refuses to make such arrangements and that he avoids conferences with Mr. Abbott.

The paper adds that Mr. Abbott has been advised by the Chinese officials who negotiated the first loan to threaten to wire all other creditors of the nation that China is not able to meet its obligations and is bankrupt.

Normally the $6,000,000 due would be released this month from the salt surplus. However, this is being held up because Mr. Obata, the Japanese minister to China, objects to the turning over of $1,500,000 to provide for the amortization of internal loans and bonds. The drawings on the first year loan, postponed from Oct. 19, are still in abeyance.

Mr. Obata claims that the Japanese have prior claims on the salt surplus.

SLAYING OF HARA MAY CUT LIBERTY OF JAPAN PRESS

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)

TOKIO, Nov. 8.—Radical curtailment of the freedom of the press in Japan is a possible outcome of the assassination of Premier Hara, Procurator General Suzuki said today, after revealing that the assassin had often rehearsed the tragedy, even going to the extent of taking fencing lessons.

"The assassin was without any definite political views," he said. "He was entirely influenced by irresponsible political opinions. One lesson to be drawn from the case is that those who pass judgment on political events should exercise more care in estimating the effect they may have on the minds of their readers. Some measures will be taken to control writers."

Marquis Saloni conferred today with Prince Yamagata regarding the premiership. It is understood Saloni wants a free hand in selecting the new cabinet.

CONFEREES READY TO UP TAX MEAS

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Senate and house conferees on the tax bill, which was passed early this morning, are ready to meet today to discuss their first meeting on Thursday. The conferees are Senator Pennington, Representative Fordney and Representative Farnham of the house ways and means committee.

The conferees of the house named on Thursday unless difficulties arise. Representative Fordney said that he hoped the conferees would stand by the bill to cut the income tax rate from 33 percent to 30 percent, and that the conferees would stand by the bill to cut the income tax rate from 33 percent to 30 percent, and that the conferees would stand by the bill to cut the income tax rate from 33 percent to 30 percent.

CONFEREES ARE READY TO TAKE UP TAX MEASURE

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Senate and house conferees on the tax bill, which was passed by the senate early this morning, will hold their first meeting on Thursday under plans mapped out today at a conference between Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, and Representative Fordney, chairman of the house ways and means committee.

The conferees of the house will be named on Thursday unless unexpected difficulties arise. Republican Leader Mondell said that he hoped the house would meet the bill to conference by unanimous consent with an understanding that a separate vote would be permitted on the question of surtax rates before consideration of the bill in conference is concluded.

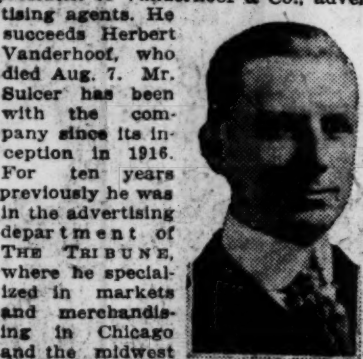

May Force Instructions.

Some house members, who have been active in seeking approval of the 50 per cent maximum surtax rate, were reluctant to give up their plan to force the voting of instructions to the house conferees. These claimed that more than seventy-five Republicans of the house are in favor of the 50 per cent maximum surtax rate, and that the Democrats can be counted upon to support the movement solidly. Representative Fordney and Mondell both favor the reduction of maximum surtax rates to 15 per cent, as provided in the house bill.

The question of surtax rates is the chief obstacle in the way of a speedy agreement between senate and house conferees. There is no difference in the normal tax rates on individual incomes in the two bills, and little difficulty is anticipated in adjusting the differences in the rates on corporation incomes.

H. D. SULZER IS MADE HEAD OF VANDERHOOF & CO.

Henry D. Sulzer has been elected president of Vanderhoof & Co., advertising agents. He succeeds Herbert Vanderhoof, who died Aug. 7. Mr. Sulzer has been with the company since its inception in 1916. For ten years previously he was in the advertising department of the National Retail Dry Goods association. The letter, which was signed by Lew Hahn, managing director of the association, also had the approval of the National Retail Clothiers' association and the National Garment Retailers' association.

May Agree on Senate Rate.

The house bill provides a rate of 12 1/2 per cent, while the senate bill fixes the rate of 15 per cent. House conferees are expected to accept the 15 per cent rate on the theory that sufficient revenue will not be obtained otherwise.

Senator Penrose made public an official estimate of revenue, which would be obtained under the bill as passed by the senate. This estimate shows that the total revenue for the fiscal year 1922 will amount to $3,842,720,000, and for the fiscal year 1923, $2,717,230,000. For the calendar year 1923, it is estimated that $2,726,200,000 will be raised.

PRESENT TARIFF ACT EXTENDED INDEFINITELY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—A request for a reopening of hearings on the American tariff valuation plan was received by Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, today from the National Retail Dry Goods association. The letter, which was signed by Lew Hahn, managing director of the association, also had the approval of the National Retail Clothiers' association and the National Garment Retailers' association.

Senator Penrose said that while the hearings on the American valuation question were closed, the committee might hear additional witnesses informally.

Without a record vote the senate today passed the house bill extending the emergency tariff act, which expires Nov. 27.

On motion of Senator McCumber of North Dakota, who was in charge of the bill, the senate amended it to provide for indefinite extension instead of until Feb. 1, as provided by the house. This action was an admission that there is not the slightest chance of the final enactment of tariff legislation before Feb. 1.

The house is expected to accept the senate amendment.

How L. B. serves modern business

TAKE your sales sheet and your cost sheet. Lay them side by side. What is the true picture of your business? Are your sales volume and profits what you know they should be?

Are your cost figures, like an army of marching ants, devouring every crumb of profit?

"How can I build sales up? How can I hammer costs down?" That is today's problem. Library Bureau can help you.

The L. B. idea

Library Bureau is every day showing businesses how to make profits from files and records—sources that a few years ago were considered only as costly overhead.

Profit comes to you in just two ways—through increased sales volume; through savings effected in overhead. Library Bureau can show you, as it has shown others—

1. How to make your files and records actively productive of sales.
2. How to save space, save money, save time—save waste of all kinds in the file and record keeping departments.

How L. B. can serve you

Take two minutes to read the panel at the right. There you will see crystallized the six main divisions of L. B. service. They are the full flower of the idea-germ that sprouted at the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876.

They span 45 years, and hidden behind them are—

Filing and card record systems that, geared to your business, increase its voltage.

Cabinets and supplies that are everywhere ranked first in quality.

Inventive genius that has brought to the business world the vertical file, the counter-height unit, the L. B. Automatic Index, the L. B. Reinforced folder and dozens of other improvements.

Trained analytical ability that sees to the heart of every filing problem.

A few questions

Can you get the letter you want when you want it? Does your sales record give you all the information you want? Are your ledgers still ponderous, space-eating books? Could some of the space in your filing department be saved? Are your files and records helping produce more business? L. B. will help you answer these and other important questions.

Send for the L. B. salesman

He is trained; he is widely experienced; he is conservative; he is constructive. You will find him an understanding man to talk to. His business is to help your business. Today—right now—telephone for an L. B. salesman to call.

The Six Big Divisions of Library Bureau Service

1. Special Service

Analysis Service: Trained experts analyze your file and record needs and furnish complete recommendations without charge. Send for booklet No. 612.

SAILORS TO SET OUT 500 MEMORY TREES ON NOV. 11

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

Capt. H. W. Wurthebaugh, commandant at Great Lakes, whose announcements are always followed by immediate action, said yesterday that the men at the naval station will plant 500 memory trees on Nov. 11 on the Green Bay road, north from Lake Bluff. Two men will be assigned to each tree and the planting will be done early in the day.

Gen. Sladen, at Fort Sheridan, was happy to announce that his soldiers will place upon the memory roads, on Friday, about 500 trees, all to be named for soldiers.

The ten miles between the army post and navy station will be left free for individual tree plantings, which will take place in the spring, to be completed for the country-wide Memorial day celebration. Grafted elms will be placed on this stretch of the road, which will be entirely in elms.

The twenty-four organizations represented in the Racine, Wis., memory tree planting are to take part in the services led by Kiwanis clubs of the city, in Lake park, on the lake shore, where the first tree of the Racine to Chicago memory road will be planted Nov. 11. This will be dedicated to the country's unknown soldier dead. On Sunday a bronze tablet will be

PLEAS FOR WORLD PEACE TO MARK ARMISTICE DAY

BY REV. W. B. NORTON.

Churches, civic and patriotic societies in Chicago and suburbs are preparing to make next Friday the most notable Armistice day held thus far.

The approaching conference on limitation of armament which opens the following day in Washington is giving inspiration to the promoters and workers in the various celebrations.

The world friendship bureau, 1010 Fine Arts building, reported yesterday that the demand for reservations in Orchestra hall for the Armistice day meeting, 11 to 12:30, was so great that the committee was looking for another hall.

Bishop Anderson to Preside. Reports received yesterday at the headquarters of the Chicago Church Federation, representing fourteen denominations, by the secretary, Walter R. Mee, indicated that 450 ministers representing 350,000 church members spoke last Sunday on the arms conference and 811 churches, representing 225,000 members, signed the formal petition to President Harding asking that the conference should not adjourn until it had accomplished its purpose concerning the limitation of armament.

At the Chicago Historical society, Miss Margaret Anglin will recite the poem, "Emulation of the Heroes." She will stand under the society's portrait of George Washington and will hold George Washington's sword in her hands while reciting. Trophies of the world war will be on exhibition. The society will keep open house from 11 o'clock on.

A bronze tablet to the memory of the soldier dead will be dedicated in Douglas park by the Lawndale and Crawford posts.

Bishop Samuel Fallows and eleven wounded soldiers will be the guests of the Covenant club of Chicago at a luncheon at 14 North Dearborn street.

Miss Florence Bernstein will sing patriotic songs.

GASOLINE TO BE SCARCE IN NEAR FUTURE, WARNING

Revival of Business Will Mean Famine.

Simultaneously with an increase in the price of gasoline, warning was given yesterday of an approaching gasoline famine. This, it was declared, would be brought about as the result of the prospective business revival and consequent increase in the demand.

An increase of 1½ cents a gallon in the price of gasoline was announced by the Standard Oil company of Indiana. This makes the new Chicago prices 19½ cents a gallon from tank wagons and 21½ cents at filling stations.

The price of kerosene was also advanced a cent a gallon, making the Chicago price 11½ cents a gallon.

Warning of Shortage.

J. B. Klump, chairman of the oil committee of the third annual convention of the American Gas Association, whose formal sessions will start in the Congress hotel today, told of the prospective gasoline shortage.

By way, perhaps of displaying a silver lining in this cloud that hovers over pleasure, Mr. Klump said a general shortage of oil will result from "a revival in business."

Sees Business Revival.

"All signs," he asserted, "point to a general revival of business, and, when this takes place, the same condition of oil shortage as has been experienced will occur, only it will be intensified."

"The general use of automobiles is increasing by leaps and bounds, and their use will be restricted only through the inability of oil companies to produce sufficient gasoline for their consumption. Then all products of oil distillation will be sacrificed to gasoline production, and the gas industry will be faced with an oil shortage."

More than 1,000 delegates, coming from all parts of the United States and Canada, are attending the convention, which has been holding preliminary committee meetings since Monday. The convention will extend through Friday. In a report to the managing committee last night Oscar H. Fogg, secretary-manager of the association, said gas companies, hampered by lack of funds, are unable to keep pace with the home building that the housing shortage must inevitably start. The gas association will elect officers today. Dana D. Barnum, vice president and chief engineer of the Sun Consolidated Gas company of Boston, probably will be chosen president, it was said.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson has been the city's chief law officer more than a year longer than yesterday, alive or dead. Yesterday was the sixth anniversary of his appointment.

CHICAGO ARGUES TRACTION FARE IN SUPREME COURT

To Hear Company's Side of Case Today.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—The city of Chicago made its fight in the United States Supreme court today to retain the 5 cent fare on the Chicago surface lines.

Samuel A. Ettelson, corporation counsel; Chester E. Cleveland, and Daniel A. Roberts, special assistants to the corporation counsel in traction matters, appeared before the Supreme court and asked the court to set aside the decision of the Illinois state Supreme court which upheld the power of the Illinois public utilities commission to increase the Chicago street car fares from 5 cents to 7 cents.

Harry P. Weber and James M. Sheehan, representing the Chicago Railways company, will be heard at the opening of tomorrow's session of the court. The Supreme court will then take the case under advisement and will render a decision probably within the next two or three months.

Denies New York's Participation.
The decision is being awaited with widespread interest because of the bearing it will have upon the traction fare controversies in other large cities.

Before arguments were begun today Chief Justice Taft announced refusal of the court to link the New York City traction dispute with the Chicago case. Counsel for the Interborough Rapid Transit company of New York had asked the court for permission to file a brief in the Chicago case, on the theory that the decision in the Chicago case would stand as a precedent for the New York case.

case would stand as a precedent for the New York case.

Cleveland Presents City's Argument.

Mr. Cleveland presented the arguments on behalf of the city of Chicago today. He reviewed the history of the case and contended that the city of Chicago was authorized "in clear and unmistakable terms" to make the contracts with the street railway companies fixing the 5 cent fare, which the state public utilities commission order would set aside.

"We invoke the settled rule of this court," said Mr. Cleveland, "that the state may authorize one of its municipal corporations to establish by an inviolable contract the rates to be charged by a public service corporation for a definite time not grossly unreasonable in point of time, and that the effect of such a contract is to suspend during the life of the contract the governmental power to fix and regulate rates."

JOHN W. GATES' GORGEOUS ROBES FIND NO BUYERS

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—All the gorgeously decorated pajamas and the flowered bathrobes the late John W. Gates used to wear were offered to St. Charles folk today at a rummage sale. The display was brilliant; citizens hesitated to buy. It seemed to them almost a sacrilege that few cents should buy the raiment which had cost many hundreds of dollars. Then, too, it was like assuming royal robes, and everybody in St. Charles is democratic.

Many of the townsmen knew John Gates well, for it was in St. Charles that he was raised. The apparel offered for sale was a gift from Mrs. Edward Baker, sister of the late Mrs. Gates, to the St. Charles Welfare society.

CONTI AVERAGES 57 IN PRACTICE FOR 18-2 EVENT

Roger Conti, the French balkline billiard star, who is practicing here for the world's championship 18-2 professional tournament next week, in an exhibition match of 400 points with Percy Collins at the Illinois Athletic club last night completed his string in seven innings, winning, 400 to 108, for an average of 57.4. The young French star's high runs were 133 and 111. Collins' high run was 43. They meet again tonight.

Willie Hoppe, balkline champion, who is tuning up to defend his title against the cracks of the world, averaged 40 for his afternoon and night engagements with Charles Peterson at Mussey's yesterday.

In the first contest, which he won, 400 to 229, Hoppe had a high run of 157. At night he beat Peterson, 400 to 208, with a tall mark of 101, while his opponent clicked off a string of 114. Peterson averaged 25.2 in the afternoon and 22.9 at night. The exhibitions will be continued this afternoon and evening.

HOCKEY VOGUE PLANNED HERE

Hockey will be one of the major sports of the winter season in Chicago this winter, if plans being made by the Chicago Hockey association materialize. Athletic organizations throughout the city have evinced considerable interest in the sport, and, according to officials of the Chicago Hockey association, the winter will bring a marked increase in the popularity of the game.

Tentative plans and schedules were discussed and officers were elected for the year at a recent meeting of the association at the I. A. C. indications are that every section of the city will be represented in the league.

LOGAN WALKERS PLAN LONG HIKE

Members of the Logan Square Athletic club will compete in a six mile hike from the Logan Square clubhouse to Paddy Bowler's cottage in Irving Park next Sunday morning, starting at 9 o'clock. A breakfast dinner will be served at the cottage immediately after the finish. A fine of $2 will be imposed on any who steal rides en route.

Among those who have entered are: Oscar Kuffer, M. J. Dempsey, Oscar Gille, Bob Fige, George Hand, Dr. R. Flannery, Dr. H. Reinhardt, William O'Brien, Ernest Scheldin, A. Brander, Max Weisman, George Heckler, Earl Yally, Art Matheons, Charles Luck, and Charles Falkenberg.

M'DONALD OFF ON 9,000 MILE HIKE

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 8.—P. J. F. Martin MacDonald, who has an international reputation as a long distance hiker, will leave here Friday morning on a jaunt of 9,000 miles—to Punta Arenas, on the southern tip of South America.

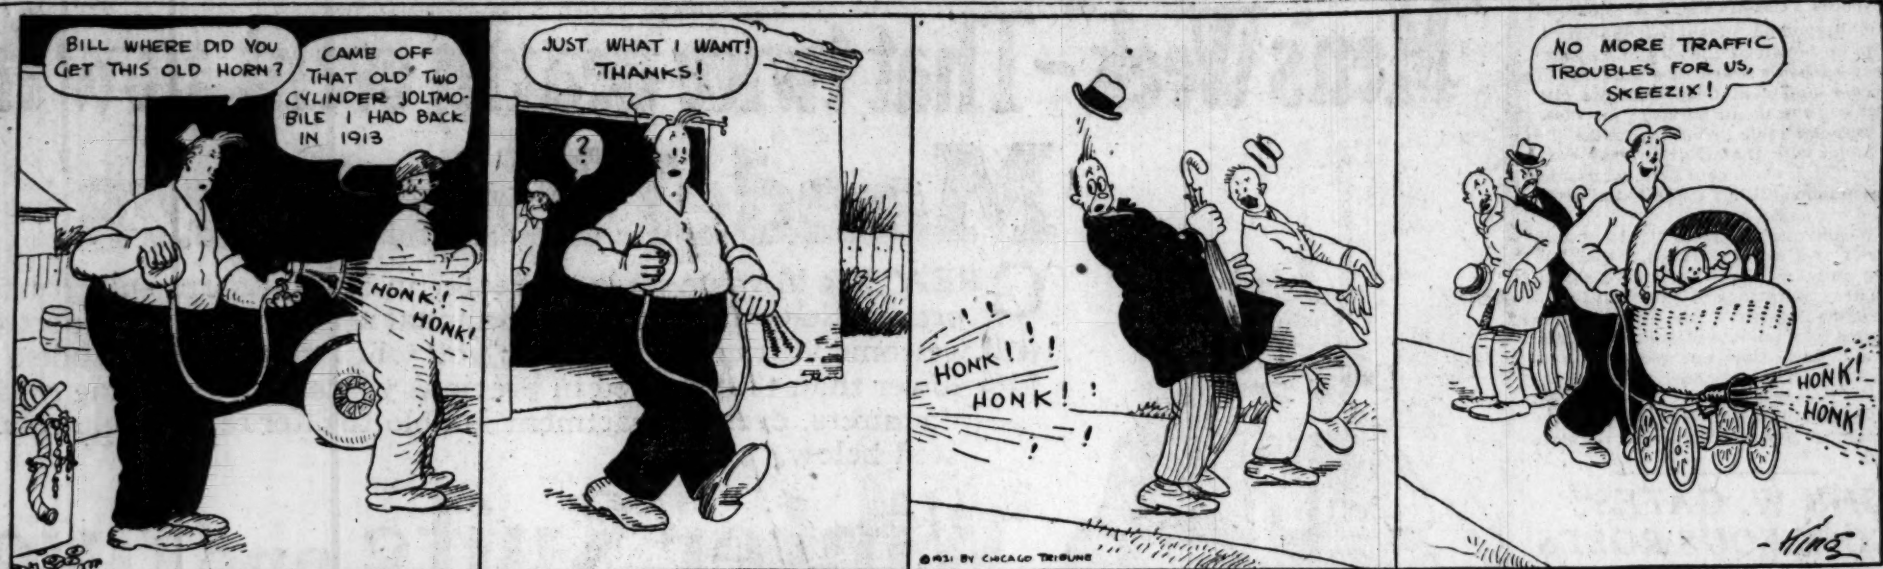

The hike is the upshot of a wager between MacDonald and W. R. Howard, president of the Argentine Racing company.

According to the terms, the ambitious pedestrian will be permitted to carry only a sporting rifle for self protection, although his route lies through lands infested with savages.

BOXING TOURNAMENT POSTPONED.

POCKET CUE DISTRICTS DECIDE 2 CHAMPIONS

Robert G. Graham of the Revere parlor won the championship of the north district in the preliminary tournament for the state amateur pocket billiard title and the diamond medal yesterday. Graham won four matches without a defeat.

George Breaux of La Violette's finished second with three wins and one loss, and other finishers were:

W. L. Hendrie, Lefflerwell's.....2 2
Clyde.....1 3
Levy.....0 4

Playing a consistent and steady game, C. A. Vaughan of the De Luxe parlor won the south district title with six straight victories. R. Eiton of L. Peterson's furnished the strongest opposition, placing second with five wins and one loss. O. Mackenson, Joe Sorger, and P. Brigham tied for third with three victories and three defeats.

RECORD TRIP ON MOTOR BIKE HERE

Driving into the teeth of yesterday's storm, John Hurck, a veteran motorcycle dealer of St. Louis, arrived in Chicago for the National Motorcycle and Bicycle show on a motorcycle with side car attachment, and established a new record for the distance. His time, 8 hours and 57 minutes, compares favorably with that of the fast trains.

Bicycle roller races in the Coliseum annex last night were a novelty. The machines were mounted on a set of rollers, but while the racers remained stationary, manikins operated by the gear, circling a miniature track, showed how the victory was going.

LOCAL GOLF

MEMBERS of the Olympia Fields Country club met at the South Shore Country club yesterday and held the annual election of officers for the coming year. Charles N. Smalley was elected president.

The following chairmen of committees, who also serve as vice presidents of the club were also elected: Grounds committee, J. W. Fulton; house committee, Albert M. Saxe; sports and pastime committee, E. P. Cockrell; membership committee, W. A. Walde.

The executive committee will hold a meeting with the new officers at the Chicago A. A., Friday at 2 o'clock.

Yesterday's storm and the end of the local season has caused thoughts of local golfers to fly toward Pinehurst, which opened its season yesterday. Several of the professionals in the Chicago district will spend most of the winter in Dixie, and local players expect to play the links of the North Carolina resort next month. The first tourney at Pinehurst will get under way this month. It will be the seventh annual autumn championship.

Alexander W. McDougall is the newly appointed manager of the Olympia Fields Country club. While a native of Canada, he has lived in the United States twenty-five years, and during the war was assistant manager of the city of Nitro, W. Va., in charge of the housing of 30,000 people.

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives:

At Philadelphia—Al Zetner beat Bobby Dyon (8). Tommy Loughran beat Len Rowlings (8). Alex Hart stopped Carl Datta (5). At St. Louis—Harry Bakosoff stopped Artie Root (10). At Peoria—Anthony Downey beat Tommy Comiskey (10). Sam Walsh beat Johnny Klick (8). Spike Peck and Young Marks fought draw (8). At Montreal—Jack McTigue knocked out Sandy Stone (5).

YANKEE SOCCER STARS MEET BRITISH SUNDAY

Young America will pit its skill at soccer against players schooled on the soccer field across the water Sunday afternoon when the Yankee team will meet the All British eleven at 2:30 street and Wentworth avenue at 25th.

This is one of two games staged for the benefit of the Illinois State Football association, the other being set for Riverview park between a picked team from the Chicago and District leagues and an eleven from the International league.

The Yankee team, which will be captained by Frank Osborne of Pullman, will be as follows:

Goal, J. Swartz; Rangers; backs, B. Swartz, Rangers, and E. Bromley; Olympia; half backs, A. Curtis, Bricklayers; A. Bromley, Olympia, and P. Osborne; Pullman; forwards, Rundquist, Swedish Americans; V. Osborne, Pullman; E. Magnuson, Swedish; G. Herron, Rangers, and R. Vidano, Olympia.

British team—Goal, Neate, Pullman; backs, C. Dixon, Bricklayers, and A. Stewart; Alverno; half backs, Hobbin, Thistles; Buchan, Harvey, and T. Jackson, Bricklayers; forwards, J. Parry, Bricklayers; W. Webster, Vernon; A. Stevens, Pullman; T. McCarthy, Thistles, and Harries, Bricklayers.

Purple Harriers to Race Indiana Team Saturday

Northwestern's cross country team, which has been training under the direction of Track Coach Hill since the beginning of school, will go to Bloomington Friday for its first cross country run of the season, against the Indiana team Saturday. The course will be five miles. Burke, Crippen, Bovee, Telford, Miller, and Davis are the Purple runners.

Davis, Miller, and Burke are experienced track men. Crippen proved a long distance star in high school. This is his first competition on a Purple squad.

Sailor Freedman to Train at Arcade for Leonard

Sailor Freedman, who is matched to box Bennie Leonard at Philadelphia Dec. 22, is due in town this morning. He will train at the Arcade in preparation for the bout.

NET STARS WANT "SEEDED" DRAW FOR 1922 EVENTS

New York, Nov. 8.—Abandonment of the "blind draw" in tournaments is being considered by the United States Lawn Tennis association. It has appointed a committee, of which R. Norris Williams of Boston is chairman, to ascertain the sentiment of leading tennis players in regard to the step. This committee will report to the executive body of the association at the December meeting.

The "blind draw," used in all of the tournaments last year, proved unsatisfactory to the players in many instances. The women's national championships, Mrs. Franklin I. Malory was drawn to meet Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup of Wilmington, Del., and Suzanne Legien in the first and second rounds, while the men's title tournament had William T. Tilden, William M. Johnston, Vincent Richards, and Zeno Shimidzu in one-eighth of the draw.

Tilden is one of the leaders in the movement to have the draw "seeded" or picked in the future.

SCHOOL JOINS NEW YORK A.P.C. New York, Nov. 8.—Jackson School, former University of Missouri sprinter and a member of the American Athletic Union, today created a new world's record at the last Olympic games, has joined the New York Athletic club and will carry its colors in the winter meets.

GOAL, J. Swartz; Rangers; backs, B. Swartz, Rangers, and E. Bromley; Olympia; half backs, A. Curtis, Bricklayers; A. Bromley, Olympia, and P. Osborne; Pullman; forwards, Rundquist, Swedish Americans; V. Osborne, Pullman; E. Magnuson, Swedish; G. Herron, Rangers, and R. Vidano, Olympia.

British team—Goal, Neate, Pullman; backs, C. Dixon, Bricklayers, and A. Stewart; Alverno; half backs, Hobbin, Thistles; Buchan, Harvey, and T. Jackson, Bricklayers; forwards, J. Parry, Bricklayers; W. Webster, Vernon; A. Stevens, Pullman; T. McCarthy, Thistles, and Harries, Bricklayers.

Rudy Knepper Annexes Golf Title of Princeton

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 8.—Rudy Knepper of Sioux City, Ia., today annexed the Princeton golf championship, beating Ed Carruth, 3 and 1, in the final round.

While I expected Notre D. to win, I thought the possibility of a close game was established at the size of the field. This game is an annual event at West Point, and the Army and Navy have a good opportunity to size up the westerners' play that I was back at the decisive defeat received.

Notre Dame used a shift that the great deal of discussion, and the Army claimed to be illegal.

Brings Up Shift Question

I am beginning to feel the definite action must be taken to question of shift plays. The rule committee has changed the phraseology so that a team must not approach the goal before putting the ball into play. There is no doubt that the teams using the shift and start a fraction of a second of the ball.

The whole strength of the shift is in the ability of the offensive to outstart the defense. The more the shift the more effective it is and it does seem to me that the rule committee will have to consider the whole man in motion situation.

Notre Dame combined its shifting game quite effectively with a great attack. It wisely held the reserve until after the first of when it opened up with deadly the Army forwards, in fact the team, we doubt had been drilled, was the more open plays, and is a strong possibility that the westerners opened up at once might have been checked.

Lafayette Has Real Contender

Lafayette humbled Princeton to 6. It clearly outclassed its opponents at every stage of the game. Jack Buchanan had a great football machine at Easton, he can keep going at the same until the end of the season, and finally rank with the leaders.

Sunday's games are really great lessons as far as team development. Ohio State defeated, 17 to 0, in the last quarter in one most brilliant games ever staged. The Maroons had the better of the game through the three quarters, but at the final five was going stronger and every minute.

I consider the Chicago team played Princeton on Oct. 22 a finished product. There is little that Chicago made the Princeton no quarrel with it for doing this.

Thinks Maroons Slipped.

Since the Princeton game the case team has not gone uphill seems to have slipped a bit, a game against Ohio State proves it's a stark impossibility to take football team, put it at top of midseason, and keep it there late November. It can't be done unless the team is drilled all October or on Thanksgiving day.

Woods and Waters

MIGRATORY BIRD NOTES

THERE has been an exceptional heavy flight of Jacksnipe this fall. Not in years have there been so many of these birds come through in such numbers as they did during the last few weeks. Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood of the Field museum, who has just returned from a hunting trip to Nebraska, has been telling us how the flocks, more jacks than the birds that struck the water were seen down there in many places. They were plentiful in this region and good bags were made in Nebraska.

A big flight of bluebirds and some mallards. But the majority of the birds that struck the water were ducks, blown in by the strong northeast wind. However, not all the ducks are down. Not by a long way, and there is bound to be some excellent shooting within the next few weeks. So if you didn't get out this week, no need to feel that you have lost the only opportunity for game shooting. The fun is, as a matter of fact, just beginning.

Have you seen the geese that have been passing over us during the last few days? We were awakened at 11:30 the other morning by the noise of a flock of about twenty geese that went over us. Jack O'Connor, Grass lake tells us that he has seen several flocks that passed over Grass lake in one day. But the birds were high and apparently hiking for some place downstate.

Too Strong for Pitt.

Nebraska, while a member of Missouri valley conference, reclassifies the other teams in the league. It smothered Oklahoma once last year's valley champion to a Saturday before the game and came east primed to beat the Saturday before the game.

Notre Dame used a shift that the great deal of discussion, and the Army claimed to be illegal.

BY GENEVIEVE FO

A horseshoe is lucky. It is also safe, godly, and recommended by the official Methodist Episcopal church, the somewhat strenuous pitching as a substitute for the more or less strenuous modern dance.

If horseshoes are unavailable,
along a pair of roller skates, a ball, punching bag, or pawns and kings for a chess set you on a level of inting the dæmon at the door.

For the Methodist church seems, loves recreation.

The Church at Play
"We think so much of portance of recreation," said
W. T. McCrae, associate editor of the Northwestern Advocate,
"that we were the first denoto appoint regular recreation days."

"The Church at Play," a just prepared for the recreation, lists the various substances which leaders will be certainly to try out on their parishes this winter.

A second Olympian game may result from the suggestion of ball, racing, and throwing, basketball, and which are recommended for energetic members of the church. Guessing games, charades, many questions will take the place for some of the groups, and singing stunts" covered and are greatly praised.

Heavy on Refreshment
As other substitutes for dances, there are suggestions of the circus, the banquet, the even the bazaar. Special given "refreshments."
Chess and horseshoes, however, in that they are the most favored for "mutual edification" which there is co-educational.

Tennis almost gets into the act, as Dr. McCrae suggests man tennis player has to be a girl with a girl to play with.

So tennis is ruled out for a devoted couples, and they don't recreational leader, anyway.
"The things you're going about this winter are as important as the things you're going to the advice Dr. Charles E. general secretary of the league, gives to all his workers."

WORKERS' RIG
TO 2 HOURS TO VOTE UP

County Judge Frank S. R.
yesterday upheld the constitution of the Illinois state law that employees of corporations to "two hours for voting."

He assessed the maximum against officials of the Chicago Police and St. Paul railway for violations of the state act. He directed a sixty day stay to pe-railway company to perfect a to the higher courts as to the constitutionality of the act. This was with the earlier procedure. A banned between Assistant State Attorney James W. Burke, representation, and the lawyers

The case goes "up" on the to whether the company must employees for the time that it "off" for voting purposes.

SNOW AND SLEET
USHER IN REAL
WINTER WEATHERMercury to Reach Freezing Point Today.

King Winter's advance guard made a frontal attack on Chicago yesterday with a forty mile an hour gale and a barrage of snow, rain, and sleet. Prof.

Henry J. Cox, head of the weather bureau, predicted that the "November storm" would last several days.

Sweeping east from Kansas City, center of the storm area yesterday,

the autumnal blizzard is scheduled to increase in severity here throughout the day, then continue eastward along the great lakes on Thursday.

Freezing Expected Today.

The temperature, which ranged around the 40 degree mark yesterday, is expected to hit the freezing mark today. The rain and sleet will likely give way to snow flurries, weather officials say.

Even last night the temperature had dropped at Glen Ellyn, and while the loop was deluged with sleet the little town was covered with a blanket of snow. Three inches fell before midnight.

Weather reports from various points in the middle west indicate that the storm conditions are general.

Wind Does Little Damage.

With the exception of slight interference with telephone and telegraph service little damage, it is said, has resulted from the high wind.

Lightning, however, slightly damaged the Oak Park Plymouth Congregational church yesterday afternoon before the blizzard began.

THE FIRST B-R-R FROM THE N. W.

All over Chicago and environs yesterday snow and rain fell intermittently. But in Oak Park and other west suburbs there was a real snowfall in Glen Ellyn three inches, it was reported. This picture was taken in Oak Park! The highlights in the trees, about the automobile, and the houses tell of chill winter and warm firesides.

HER PHANTOM LOVER
BY ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

INSTALLMENT XXXIX.

"O, I can't bear to be unhappy!" she cried in accents of agony.

He made as if to say something, but checked himself.

"You're contented enough. You enjoy spoiling my life,

I suppose. It's giving you great satisfaction. You don't care how you hurt me. Why, I'm sure you even think, or pretend to think, that Philip Bowen wasn't killed accidentally, but did it on purpose. That's a part of your hardness to me, Ronny. And then there's Rita. You don't flirt with her. It's much more deadly than that. Knowing her loose way of looking at life, I haven't the slightest doubt but that you are her secret lover!"

Ronald laughed disagreeably.

"And I? I'm quite sure I don't regard life in a loose fashion."

"Men are different! Everybody knows that men can do as they please."

"My dear Doria, you are still young enough to move with the spirit of the age. Everybody knows that is just what men cannot do. This is the day of the prodigal daughter. The son's nose is quite out of joint. Don't be too hard on your friend, Mrs. Charing. And now I really think I must be going."

"Very well, go—go!" she said violently.

She returned to the house alone filled with a stinging sense of having been rebuffed as well as rebuked. Heavens, she had all but asked Ronny in so many words to be her husband again, and he had ignored such a plain hint. A sickening sense of failure burdened her heart.

She looked into the library, but Drake had disappeared.

The butler was going about setting things in order and putting out lights. Doria nodded to him.

Rita Charing, who was sitting in a wrapper by the window, the room lighted only by a couple of candles. Her hair floated softly about her shoulders and her neck and arms were bare.

Doria said, with an uneasy laugh:

"You have got yourself into a mess, haven't you?"

LIGREGNI TRIES TO SLAY JAILER
ON HANGING EVEFights to Escape as Death
Cell Hour Nears.

An hour before he was placed in the death cell yesterday in preparation for his execution this afternoon, Frank

Ligregni, who shot and killed his wife,

Genevieve, last winter at Bartlett, made a frantic attempt to fight his way to freedom and to take the life of a man who had testified against him. It was the fourth attempt the condemned man has made to escape from the jail.

Charles West, an assistant jailer, was the victim of Ligregni's attack,

which occurred when the prisoners were in the "bull pen" of the jail for exercise. West was not seriously injured.

Attacks with Piece of Lens.

Ligregni struck West on the nose knocking off his glasses, which were shattered on the floor. In a flash the condemned man picked up a piece of glass and made several attempts to cut the guard's cheek. One slash with

TROY LAUNDRY MACHINE CO. TO QUIT CHICAGO

BY AL CHASE.

Another great industrial concern connected with the home art of washing clothes is going to quit Chicago. Close on the heels of the Gold Dust twins in their departure from town last week comes the news that the Troy Laundry Machine company, the largest concern of its kind in the world under one roof, is going to East Moline, Ill. The eighty-three acre plant of the Root & Van Dervoort Engineering company, with 600,000 square feet of floor space in the twenty buildings, has been purchased.

President S. Brock of the Troy concern left last night for East Moline to find out, if possible, when the Root & Van Dervoort Engineering company can move. Until he gets that information, he states, he can't give the date of the laundry machine company's removal. The Troy concern's five story plant covers an entire block on South La Salle between 22d and 23d, fronting on the Rock Island tracks. It was established thirty years ago.

A Trio of Big Deals.

Arthur F. Williams has paid a reported $275,000 for the sixty flats at 3751-57 Grand boulevard, Georgia pine land being given in part payment. A. B. Lavin and Fred Larson were sellers. S. P. Brynman of William D. Murdoch & Co. was broker, assisted by George R. Short of McKee & Poague.

The sixty apartment building, containing stores and offices, at the northeast corner of Irving Park boulevard and Southport avenue, extending to Belle Plaine avenue, 554x100, has been bought by Herbert G. Seefeld and Edward R. Steinman of Milwaukee from Edward M. Hertha and Clarence A. Anderson for a reported $250,000, subject to $25,000. A 3,900 acre Texas ranch was given in part payment. George A. Graydon of E. B. Woolf & Co. represented the sellers and Charles Fry of Milwaukee the buyers.

Buy South Side Corner.

A reported $150,000 was paid by Joseph E. Hitt to Edward Taub and Oscar Fine-man for the twenty-four flats at the northeast corner of 57th and Dorchester. T. C. Ernest of Alvin H. Reed & Co. made the sale.

Philip Lesman has bought from H. W. Gortemoller the property at 1405-07 North Wood street, at the northeast corner of Milwaukee avenue, running back to the southeast corner of Brigham street, improved with a one story brick building, for a reported $25,000. The buyer will remodel the building for three stores, although no architect has yet been engaged. W. C. Regelin and G. A. Boerste were brokers and will manage the property.

STATE BOARD NAMES CHIEF.
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 8.—W. C. Johnson of Danville was selected chairman of Illinois' new examining board for real estate agents and brokers at the first meeting of the board here today. Joseph K. Brittain of Chicago was named secretary, and Walter J. Ruediger of Belleville treasurer. The board, created by the Dailley law, will pass upon applications of all real estate dealers of the state for licenses. Registration becomes effective Jan. 1, 1922. "Curbsone" agencies are abolished by the new law, which requires every agent to maintain an established office.

Morris.

H. H. C.—There are now outstanding $17,650,000 Morris & Co. 4 1/2 per cent first mortgage sinking fund bonds, due July 1, 1933. These bonds are secured by a first mortgage on all the company's properties, leaseholds, rights, etc., representing an investment of over $44,000,000. The bonds are redeemable on any interest date on three months' notice at 103 and interest. A sinking fund of not less than $300,000 a year is provided to purchase bonds up to 103 and interest. Net earnings for the last five years have averaged approximately five times the interest requirements of this issue during this period. The bonds can be bought to yield 5 per cent or better at the present market.

Building Permits

Thirty-four building permits were issued yesterday, among them being the following:

The Return to Normalcy

The downward trend of money rates and the consequent advance of bond prices are indicative of the approach of what we know as "normal" investment conditions.

Under such conditions, ten years ago, the Equipment Issues of the strongest railroads sold at prices which netted the investor only about 4.80%.

Today, although bond prices have begun to advance, we are able to supply

Illinois Central Railroad Company
Equipment 6's due January 15, 1934

and
Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company
Equipment 6's due January 15, 1935

at a price to yield the investor 5.80%.

The indications of further easing in money rates suggest the wisdom of prompt action on the part of those who favor this high type of security.

Full description of either of the above issues will be furnished on request.

TO THE MEDITERRANEAN
CARONIA WONDER CRUISE
Sailing January 28th

The Number of Passengers is strictly limited to 350. No more than two passengers will be allotted to any one stateroom, thus ensuring the greatest privacy and comfort on decks and throughout the public rooms.

The Cuisine will be the noted table of the Cunard Line, long recognized by Atlantic travelers as unexcelled.

The Service will be the well known Cunard Service, supplemented at all times by our experienced, competent representatives.

The Steamer will be the renowned "Caronia," on which last year's wonderfully successful Mediterranean Cruise was sailed,—a famous liner unsurpassed for comfort.

The Itinerary includes visits to MADEIRA, SPAIN (Cadix-Seville-Granada), GIBRALTAR (Tangiers), ALGIERS, MONACO (Nice and Monte Carlo), NAPLES (and environs), ALEXANDRIA (Cairo and Nile), PALESTINE (Jerusalem, Bethlehem, etc.), CONSTANTINOPLE, ATHENS, ITALY (Naples and Rome). Stop-over privileges in Europe—with return passage by Aquitania, Mauretania, Berengaria or other Cunarders.

The entire cruise will be under our exclusive management. We have 80 years' experience in traveling the public, and our own old established local organizations at every principal point visited.

MORE GASOLINE EXPECTED UNDER NEW AGREEMENT

BY O. A. MATHER.

One of the most important of recent developments in the oil industry and which also will have an effect on the automotive industry was made known yesterday. In brief it is a business arrangement between two of the largest factors in the American oil industry, the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Texas company, whereby production of the gasoline may be considerably increased.

The two companies have effected an arrangement whereby each has the right to operate under patents held by the other pertaining to the pressure cracking of crude oil in connection with the manufacture of gasoline and other petroleum products. Furthermore, and of more importance, either company may license others to operate under any and all their patents under an agreed division of royalties.

Spir to Auto Industry.

The granting of licenses to other companies to use these patented processes, through which the greatest percentage of gasoline is produced from crude oil, would result in benefiting the oil industry as a whole and also increase the supply of petroleum products essential for the use of internal combustion engines. Larger production of gasoline should prove a stimulus to the automobile industry. In this general connection, however, there were announced yesterday certain increases in gasoline prices, but these are not supposed to have been caused by this arrangement.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana owns the Burton, Humphreys, Clark, and other patent rights, while the Texas company holds the rights in the Adams, James-Manley, and other patents through the Burton process, which was largely developed by Dr. W. M. Burton, now president of the Standard Oil of Indiana, nearly 50 per cent in gasoline is obtained from crude oil, whereas in 1919 the average was about 11 per cent and in 1920 about 26 per cent. In particular this business alliance is expected to be beneficial to both companies, the Standard of Indiana being one of the principal refiners and the Texas company being one of the largest producers of crude oil, as well as a large refiner.

Goodyear Report Out.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company has made public its first report since reorganization. The statement covers operations for the seven months ended Sept. 30 and comes simultaneously with the public offering today of $27,500,000 of the company's ten year 8 per cent sinking fund gold debenture bonds. The report shows net sales, $62,431,179; net earnings, $4,828,486; interest charges, $2,318,941; other charges and adjustments, $2,119,604; net balance to surplus, $3,395,531.

Current assets are on the ratio of about ten to one compared with current liabilities the former being $67,205,276 and the latter $6,742,736. Among current assets, cash and marketable securities aggregate $1,722,485 and inventories represent $30,763,905. Among liabilities, capital stock aggregates $35,665,300 and funded debt, including the debentures being offered, was $57,500,000. In the ten months ended Oct. 31 the company sold more tires than in the same period in 1920.

Forgan Haps Capital Tax.

James B. Forgan, chairman of the First National Bank of Chicago, responding to the request of the committee of American business men formed to combat the program of the agricultural bloc in the senate, has prepared a statement in which he expresses the opinion that the senate's taxation bill would retard the recovery of American business. He says that congress should lessen the burden placed upon capital rather than restrict capital and drive it deeper into tax-free investments.

"Apparently congress believes that business ought to have no objection to paying a large part of its profits over to the government in the shape of taxes," Mr. Forgan says. "This is in justification of the high excess-profits tax and proceeds from the view that the large earnings of corporations and individuals are used for personal and selfish purposes."

Says Taxes Halt Expansion. "As a matter of fact it is from earnings which are larger than those needed to fill the wants of individuals that the increase of wealth and production in the country must come. Taxes such as those we have today do not compel many to curtail personal expenditures, but do prevent the expansion of industry and commerce, which probably works greater hardship upon the laboring classes than it does upon those who actually pay the taxes."

"The other effect of our present system of taxation is to drive large sums out of the realm of productive investment into the field of tax-exempt securities."

MONEY AND EXCHANGE

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.

Money in Chicago steady, 640/4 per cent on collateral; commercial paper, 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 per cent, 64 1/2 per cent over the counter; bank deposits, 4 1/2 per cent; New York exchange by wire, par; by mail, 15 1/2 c discount.

Chicago bank clearings yesterday were $66,400,000, compared with $104,000,000 a week ago and $108,700,000 a year ago.

BUSINESS NEWS IN BRIEF

(Copyright, 1921, by Fairchild News Service.)

NEW YORK.—Demand for women's black and white gloves is unprecedented, according to a prominent retail buyer.

NEW YORK.—Far seeing buyers are taking cotton core. The wave is expected to "come back" for spring. Dress manufacturers are among the buyers and believe prices will rise by spring.

NEW YORK.—Pulp and paper prices are so "close" that a slight rise in the gray goods market would compel them to revise recent quotations upward.

LONDON.—An American order was reported placed for 3,000 men's overcoats at 63 shillings each, or less than $12.50. It is understood the coats will be made up from cloth ordinarily quoted at 20 shillings per yard but now quoted at 8 shillings for the purpose of capturing the order.

NEW YORK.—Branded sheetings selling to jobbers are quiet. The mills need business and may shut down unless orders develop, it is reported.

FALL RIVER, Mass.—Cotton mill dividends for the fourth quarter of 1921 are the lowest since 1916. The basis now is practically 6 per cent for the year. Total dividends for the quarter were $673,075 on a total capitalization of $38,710,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Cut price sales of men's clothing will spread all over the country within a few weeks, manufacturers circle predict. Retail stocks are reported piling up. Manufacturers are checking accounts with unusual care.

NEW YORK.—Wardrobe, which opened the season at $2 per yard, now are being resold at $2 net. The deduction is that the original selling price must have been well under $2 in order to return a profit on the resale.

Another $5@50c break in hog values yesterday carried the top and average to $7.35 and $7.00 respectively, standing lowest since January, 1916. Receipts for two days totaled $6,000, the largest since February. The market closed semi-panicly with 10,000 left in the pens at the finish.

Late in December, 1915, some droves of packing hogs cost below the $6.00 mark, while in July, 1919, the record top of $22.40 was established at Chicago. Back in 1907 packers purchased droves below the $4.00 mark, and in 1896 hogs droves cost between $2.50 and $3.00, showing extremes during the last twenty-five years. There is considerable speculation these days regarding the future hog market, with most traders counting on a still lower level with temporary upturns. The number of hogs in the country at present is seemingly larger than most of the trade anticipated, consequently the outlook for product will necessarily have to increase very materially.

Cattle Lowest Since 1914. General cattle trade yesterday was unsatisfactory and mostly 25c lower, most kinds selling as low as any time since late in 1914. While 55 lb yearlings reached $11.50, choice 1,210 lb beefs sold at $15.50, and a desirable class of 1,200 lb steers below the $6.00 mark. Calves closed $5.00@11.00 lower yesterday.

Trade in lambs was active at steady to strong prices, while aged sheep sold slowly and barely steady. Top fat lambs reached $10, with feeding stock as high as $4.10. Few sheep sold above $4.00. A load of 90 lb angora goats sold at $17.50 per 100 lbs.

Receipts at Chicago for the day are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against 14,514 cattle, 18,581 hogs, and 14,478 sheep the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Fresh eggs advanced while refrigerator lots declined 5c. Fine fresh eggs were wanted in excess of the supply. Arrivals of all grades were 7,440 cases, against 8,829 cases last year.

Live turkeys advanced 3c to 35c. Live ducks and spring chickens were up 1/2c and 1/4c. Arrivals were 5 cars and 905 coops.

Butter holders were more anxious to sell and offered stock so freely that the market cleaned up fairly. Boston and Philadelphia had a slow trade and the lone car. The New York market was closed.

Chinese trade was confined to small lots with prices in Chicago and eastern markets without change. Fond du Lac, Wis., reported buyers of potatoes took choice stock freely at full prices. Arrivals were 59 cars with 376 cars on team tracks.

FINANCIAL NOTES

During October there were 634 new companies with an authorized capital of $100,000 or over organized under the laws of the principal states, representing a grand total of $503,394,000. In the corresponding period a year ago there were 1,095 companies formed with a combined authorized capital of $1,179,801,300. September returns of the current year indicated that 690 concerns took out charters, representing an average of $480,840,100. Since Jan. 1 incorporations have reached $6,972,612,900, compared with $13,242,677,700 in the corresponding period a year ago and $10,259,837,000 in the first ten months of 1919.

Bradstreet's food index number, based on the wholesale price per pound of thirty-one articles used for food, is $2.98, compared with $2.90 last week and $4.00 for the week ending Nov. 4, 1920. This week's number shows a loss of four-tenths of 1 per cent from last week and 7.1 per cent from the like week of last year. Of the eight-one commodities all kinds quoted eight advanced as compared with last week, twenty-five declined, and forty-eight remained unchanged.

G. H. Jones, vice president and one of the founders of the Inland Steel company, has retired from active service with the company the first of the year. Walter C. Carroll, former assistant general manager of sales of the company, which was the first company at Pittsburgh who has been elected a vice president of the Inland Steel company, is expected to assume his new duties in a few days.

The $500,000 Peris (Ill.) stock bond issue was awarded to William R. Conpton & Co. of Chicago, who are offering it at 5 per cent per annum from date of issue.

The Utah Power and Light company has sold $2,000,000 of 6 per cent general mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds to the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago. The bonds are being offered at 94 and interest, yielding 6 1/2 per cent.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern railway was given authority by the interstate commerce commission yesterday to issue $310,571 of 5 per cent bonds to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company, which owns the first named property. The St. Paul will be reimbursed by the exchange, the commission found, for money advances and obligations assumed in behalf of the smaller road.

The Detroit, Toledo and Ironport yesterday sought a reduction in passenger rates. An application filed with the public utilities commission at Columbus, O., asked that passenger charges be cut from 3.6 cents a mile to 3 cents. The new tariff, affecting interstate and intrastate traffic, will become effective Nov. 20. Members of the commission believe that they will not oppose the reduction.

President H. A. Smith of the New York Central line today received a letter from Western Railway club of Chicago, said that the railroad had demonstrated their ability to give the best service, cheapest rates and highest wages of any lines in the world when let alone and that too much regulation was the bane of their present existence.

Recommendation that the Illinois Terminal Railway be authorized to construct fourteen miles of railroad in Madison and St. Clair counties, Illinois, was made to the interstate commerce commission yesterday by Examiner H. C. Davis.

WORLD'S GRAIN-MARKET-NEWS

The government report will be given out in Chicago at 1:15 today. Its main feature will be the estimate of the corn crop based on returns and stocks of old corn on hand Nov. 1. Estimates on the crop range from 3,107,000,000 bu to 3,125,000,000 bu. A yield per acre of 38 bu will give 2,949,000,000, while 29 bu will show 2,158,000,000 bu and 30 bu per acre would suggest a record crop of 3,297,000,000 bu. Last month's sell main was 3,164,000,000 bu and last year 3,232,000,000 bu. Estimates on farm reserves range from 211,000,000 bu to 329,000,000 bu. The government's revised figures of last year show 139,900,000 bu, or around 4.9 per cent of the 1919 crop. The five year average was 80,570,000 bu. The weight of small grains per measured bushel is to be given. The yield of oats is expected to be the lowest in many years and below 30 lb. Last year, 33.1 lb.

A more cheerful feeling existed in the wheat market, and it shows more disposition to respond to constructive influences. How long this feeling will last was the question asked by all last night. It is the impression that those who have taken in their hedging on the break are working to set prices up to put out their lines at more advantageous figures. There is really more to buy wheat than of late. Distressed wheat at Montreal and the Atlantic ports has been absorbed, and that at the Gulf is gradually working off, as a cargo was sold there for export.

Large purchases of flour have been made here for the Russian relief, but the quantities are not given yet. There is said to be plenty of low grade flour to be had at low prices and apportion wheat millers are offering first clears at $4.50 per bbl in lots.

The wheat traders have the impression that leading interests are absorbing the wheat, and there is more confidence shown by local operators who have bought the last two days. Reports from Winnipeg were that Chicago houses bought wheat futures there. Delivery.

The strong probability of more direct financial aid to farmers in holding corn with the more lenient conditions now prevailing tends to create a more confident buying power under corn," said J. E. Bennett & Co. "At this level of prices there is no great concern on the part of the farmer to sell and market his new crop, as he feels there is a possibility of a substantial upturn would be viewed with favor by the strongest financial interests of the country as well as government authorities as one of the most salutary influences in stabilizing the general business and industrial conditions of the country."

Wheat prices are up over 7c from last Friday's low, and Liverpool is up 9d from the low point. The tone of the market there leads the trade here to believe that the worst has been seen for the present. For the present it is regarded as unwise to buy on bulges or sell short on breaks. If there is any selling it should be on sharp bulges.

A number of large operators expect that the disarrangement conference at Washington will develop conditions which are to stabilize foreign exchange and ultimately result in great benefit to the grain trade and to business and financial interests in general. It is looked upon as a constructive measure.

The greater part of the wheat at Montreal and the understanding to the wheat, applies to the passage. Liverpool was up time, showing an advance of Nov. 4, and closed at 10 1/2. The general run of foreign wheat, and corn, is expected to be encouraging to the buyers. Intimations that a good new had been put through with exporters free buyers. Holland bought some wheat, and Italy is expected to market next week. The report of grain falling had no effect on the weather was warmer. At noon showed 45°.

There has been rather poor of corn for several days, the strongest of local produce with the strength in wheat. It was easily attained, although were small. Final trades 1/4c of the top, with Dec. 4 and May at 2 1/2c, after a 1/4c for the day.

A little new investment in May oats, but the trade was in spreading better and May with oats shows no disposition to stop. It continues to ship out for storage purposes and has decreased $5,000 bu for the purchase of a cargo. Grain at Duluth is strong, no effect on the market. Oats at the seaboard is up over December track, Baltimore port with a cargo sold at 1 1/2c on track sold at 1 1/2c.

Lard and Ribs. All deliveries of lard and new low figures for the season with net figures of 17 1/2c on Nov. 8. High. Low. 1921. Nov. 8. 8.07 8.32 8.07.

Changing conditions are an important factor governing the price of mortgage bonds. What seemed a deferred investment year ago may no longer be so today. We are of the opinion that conservative investors should be informed of the change so that they can act accordingly in making new investments.

GOOD BUYING

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Buying of wheat throughout the day was of a better class than the selling. Bullish sentiment predominated and at no time were prices below the previous day's finish, the close being at net gains of 1/4 to 1/2¢ and at the top showed 7/8 to 1¢ over the low of last week. Corn and oats derived the greater part of their strength from the fact that the market was operating on a backward order and the market was generally appreciably taking the buying side, and pressure was light the greater part of the day.

Neat Cleaned Up.
The greater part of the distressed wheat at Montreal and the seaboard and elsewhere to have been cleaned up, and was applied to that on ocean passage. Liverpool was up 1/4¢ at 80¢ from the low of Nov. 4, and closed 1/4¢ higher. The general run of foreign news was encouraging to the bulls and there were intimations that a good export business had been put through in Manitoba by exporters here buyers in Winnipeg. The market for some time has been quiet, and the report of a Milan grain falling had no effect. Argentine weather was warmer and Buenos Aires at noon showed 44° decline.

Corn's Net Gain Small.
There has been rather persistent buying of corn for several days for some of the strongest of local professionals, and with the strength in wheat a higher level was easily attained, although net gains were small. Final trades were up 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, with December at 46¢ and May at 52¢, after a range of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ for the day.

A little new investment buying was noted in May oats, but the bulk of the trade was in spreading between December and May with oats showing relatively more strength than corn. The east does no disposition to stock up. Duluth continues to ship oats to Duluth for storage purposes and stocks there increased 45,000 bu for three days. The purchase of a cargo of 170,000 bu of oats to Duluth to come to Chicago had no effect on the market. The distressed wheat at the seaboard and elsewhere to have been cleaned up and bids of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ for December track, Baltimore, were reported with a cargo sold to Sweden. No lot track sold at December price.

Lard and Ribs Lower.

All deliveries of lard and ribs sold at low figures for the season and closed with net losses of 17¢ on November lard and 24¢ on ribs on the deferred futures, while ribs were 10¢ lower. The strength in grain led to short covering and the rally in lard toward the last. Backers were fair sellers on the bulls. Hog receipts were excessive and prices at the yards sharply lower. Cash demand fairly fair, with 30,000 lbs lard sold at 14¢. Prices follow:
